WATER SUPPLY OF ST. LOUIS THREATENED

Ice in Mississippi River Has Choked Reservoir Intakes. Situation Serious

WEATHER IS MODERATING

Dispatches From Middle West Indicate That Cold Spell Is Broken

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 8.—Twenty laundries ceased operations today because of the shortage of water supply, which threatens to become a famine before the week ends. Shortly before noon, the pressure became so weak that the second floors of residences were without waer. The shortage is caused by the clogging of the intake wells at Chain of Rocks.

Ice in the Mississippi river has gorged a solid wall against the gates, and the supply reservoirs are rapidly being emptied. The shortage is hastened by enormous waste, caused by all-night running of water to prevent the freezing of pipes.

The Compton Heights reservoir, which supplies the residence district in the southwestern portion of the city, was dry at noon. It contained 60,000,000 gallons of water when the cold wave arrived.

Several serious breaks in water mains have increased the waste, and officials of the water department expect the conditions to become critical unless the weather moderates considerably within a day or two.

Moderating in Middle West.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Cold weather conditions, which have caused death and suffering in Chicago and the middle west the last four days, during which time the thermometer seldom registered above zero, were ameliorated today.

A heavy fall of snow added warmth to otherwise inadequate shelter, and the temperature rose several degrees above zero.

It grew colder as night came on, and zero again was recorded. That the cold spell will be broken is indicated by the forecast tonight.

Snow Blocks Railroads.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 8.—The heaviest snowfall in the history of railroading in the Pacific northwest has played havoc with traffic on the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation company and the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railroad lines. Those rights of way through the Columbia river gorge are blocked today

AMERICAN TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYERS ARE DAMAGED

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 8.—The small dockyard here is crowded with storm tossed and weather beaten American torpedo boat destroyers. Up to this evening seven had reached port, the Perkins, Walker, Ammen, Lovett, Preston, Trippe and Paulding. Two, the Mayrant and McCall, have not been heard from.

After encountering a northeast gale Thursday and Friday which the officers and men describe as a hurricane, the flotilla ran into a southwest gale Sunday night. The Paulding, which was disabled in the first storm, felt the fury of the gale more than the others.

Fortunately, when about 20 miles northeast of Bermuda she was sighted by the battleship Michigan, which supplied her with provisions. She arrived at Bermuda this morning, but in entering port ran on a submerged coral ledge. She was soon floated and now at the dock yard badly damaged.

The commander of the Paulding, Lieut. S. H. Doyle, said the gales were the worst he had known during his 17 years of sea service. He remained on the bridge 48 consecutive hours. Few of the crew were allowed on deck at one time.

When 600 miles from New York the vessel was forced to lay to while the wind blew at the rate of 56 miles an hour. Her wireless apparatus was carried away, preventing communication with her sister ships, and the destroyer was washed fore and aft by gigantic waves. Boats were washed overboard and smashed, the fore compartments were flooded, provisions were spoiled, and the crew had to do without food. Officers and men were hurled out of their bunks and some of the men were cut and bruised as a result of violent falls and contact with the iron work.

The pounding of the seas opened the seams of the deck, and one huge wave buried the destroyer under hundreds of tons of water, carrying away everything not secured.

Already the Paulding has undergone examination and after making repairs will leave for Guantanamo with the other destroyers.

All the other boats show marks of rough experience. On the Trippe Ensign James Nash and R. G. Mailing were badly cut and bruised by falls.

The battleship Michigan is now scouring the waters around Bermuda seeking some trace of the missing destroyers, Mayrant and McCall.

Sheriff Julius Harburger of the city of New York has appointed several prominent women as deputy sheriffs, with the powers of arrest. The upper picture shows Sheriff Harburger fastening a deputy sheriff's badge upon Miss John S. Crosby, who is the president of the Women's Democratic club of New York. The lower picture is that of Mrs. C. H. Truax, widow of a supreme court justice of the state of New York, who will also be appointed.

INDIAN AFFAIRS ARE GRAFTERS' DELIGHT

Offer Bait to Wrongdoers Even Under Best Administration, Says Commissioner

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Indian affairs, even under the best possible administration, are peculiarly a field for the grafter and all other wrongdoers, is the frank admission made by Robert G. Valentine, commissioner of Indian affairs, in his annual report today to the secretary of the interior.

"The lands and moneys of the Indians," he continues, "offer a bait which the most satiated fish will not refuse, and frequently a whole community will get on the wrong track toward the Indians. To offset this, not only publicity as to Indian affairs, but the freest discussion of all divergent views with regard to them, are essential."

Commissioner Valentine says tribal organization is breaking up, and that, "the point of evolution thus reached is almost epochal, for it marks the time when each Indian begins to stand forward as his own business man, and, in a measure, reaches the status of white citizens."

In keeping with the determination of the bureau to give the Indian every opportunity to become industrious, Mr. Valentine declares that "at least $145,000 of the yearly expenditure for the Indian office was paid to Indians for labor; and the reclamation service, on the four projects it is constructing for the Indian service, paid out $168,000 for Indian labor."

YAQUI INDIANS REFUSE TO ACCEPT PEACE TREATY

Repudiate Action of Delegation and Mexican President and Are Now Claiming More Land

EL PASO, Jan. 8.—A special to the Times from Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico, today, says that the treaty made between the Yaqui peace delegation sent to Mexico City and President Madero has been utterly repudiated by the Yaqui tribe upon the return of the delegation. This action wiped out all possibility of agreement and puts the situation where it was at the close of the last revolution. In lieu of the government proposition the Yaquis are now claiming all the land in the Yaqui river valley, including eight towns with populations ranging from 750 to 5,000 people.

MINING COMPANY LOSES SUIT FOR GAYLORD MILL

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 8.—District Judge Owen today gave judgment for the defendant, Edwin Gaylord, against the J. Johnson Mining company, together with costs. The mining company sued for the possession of the Gaylord mill on Ironclad hill.

The mill will now be torn down and removed to the Dante mine on Bull hill on which Gaylord has a five-year lease

ALLEGED CANADIAN BANK ROBBER HELD

One of Men Suspected of Getting Part of $375,000 Carried $1,100 With Him

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—John McNamara of San Francisco, known to detectives of half a dozen cities as "Australian Mack," was arrested here tonight by central office and private detectives on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $375,000 from the New Westminster, B. C., branch of the Bank of Montreal, which was dynamited September 14.

Eleven hundred dollars was found in his wallet and detectives are searching the city tonight for $240,000 of the bank's funds which he is believed to have brought to New York.

For 10 days McNamara has been under surveillance after traveling over the United States and Canada for more than two months, it is said. Police headquarters here say that they first learned of his arrival through a tip that some one was trying to exchange a large amount of Canadian money for American currency.

Four detectives arrested McNamara on a street in Harlem. He submitted quietly, asked to see the warrant and after reading it, smiled and said:

"I am greatly relieved. I thought it was some more serious charge."

In addition to larceny, McNamara is charged with dynamiting the bank's safe and binding and gagging a Chinese watchman. McNamara joked with his captors when he was urged to confess and said he was traveling over the country, looking for a good location to open a cafe.

For nearly 15 years, the police assert, McNamara has been known to the authorities throughout the country. His picture, they say, is in the rogue's galleries here and in Washington, Louisville and Chicago, but there is no record of any conviction.

Four men, it is charged are implicated in the alleged crime of which McNamara is accused. In their haste to get away they dropped a $5,000 bundle of bills, and finding that they had more than they could carry hid $24,000 beneath a wooden sidewalk in New Westminster. $240,000 dollars of the stolen money was negotiable, lacking, however, the signature of the bank's officials.

Six weeks later, a bank in Buffalo received $1,005 in the stolen bills, deposited, the police declare, by a pool room keeper. The bank is said to have asked the depositor where he procured it and upon his failure to answer, the money was confiscated.

Another Suspect Arrested.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 8.—The northwestern manager of the detective agency that arrested John McNamara in New York on a charge of robbing the New Westminster, B. C., branch of the Bank of Montreal, said tonight that they have arrested also a man known as Charles Deen, alias Hoffman, on a similar charge. Deen, the detectives say, was arrested at Los Angeles last Friday and is held there awaiting extradiction.

Deen, it is said, formerly conducted a bowling alley at Tacoma. He owned a launch and made frequent trips about the sound.

Sympathetic Strike of Over 300,000 Members of Federated Railroad Shop Employes Within Month, Says Leader

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—A sympathetic strike of more than 300,000 members of the federated railroad shop employes to be called within a month and possibly within two weeks, was predicted today by Ernest L. Reguin, president of the Federated Shop Employes of the Harriman lines.

The strike, he said, will include every road in Texas, the Denver & Rio Grande and the Hill lines, and possibly roads in the east that are members of the General Managers association.

According to Reguin, plans for this sympathetic strike have progressed to the point where only the formality of taking a vote remains. Of the result of this vote there is no doubt, he said.

"The strike on the Harriman lines," said Reguin, "has reached the stage where the roads would be compelled to deal with the employes were it not for the assistance received from other roads. Before the strike there was an ironclad rule that one road would not take rolling stock from another road unless that stock was in first-class condition, but now anything is accepted, and union men in the shops of roads not directly involved in the strike are compelled to repair the rolling stock of the Harriman lines.

"We figure that once these roads now lending assistance to the Harriman lines have troubles of their own, the Harriman lines soon will capitulate. The subject of a sympathetic strike has been under consideration for a long time and the decision to take a vote came only as a last resort. The strike probably will be called from Chicago."

Reguin is considered allied to the more radical wing of the shopmen.

R. T. CRANE, FOE OF UNIVERSITIES, DEAD

Repeated Views About Burning Colleges a Few Hours Before His Death

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Richard T. Crane, head of Crane company and foe of universities and higher educational institutions, died at his home tonight, after a three days' illness of grippe.

Mr. Crane's illness had not been considered serious. A casual examination by physicians led to the belief that he had suffered from an attack of heart disease. He had just finished a light dinner.

Nearly 80 years old, Mr. Crane, who had been without the advantages—or disadvantages, as he characterized it—of training in universities, and had worked his way to the head of a large iron working company, contended all his life that the college and the university was a worthless fixture, and that the money devoted to higher education could be spent more profitably in extending industrial education and aiding persons who had met with adversity.

His demise occurred within a few hours of the issue of his last attack on schools—an attack called forth by repudiation of his theory by college professors and presidents.

This verbal warfare against higher education has been conducted for several years, most of the time in a pamphlet he issued. Later he wrote a book in which his views were contained.

Of his two sons, the elder, Charles Richard Crane, was appointed minister to China in 1909, but resigned before leaving America, after his recall to Washington. He is not a college graduate. He worked in his father's mill and learned technical engineering in the drawing rooms and at the lathes.

Richard T. Crane, Jr., was a product of the Manual Training school and the Sheffield Scientific school, Yale university.

The success of the second son, who also became a department head in the company, Mr. Crane always contended, was in spite of, and not as a result of, his higher schooling.

Richard Teller Crane was born in Paterson, N. J., in 1832. Martin Ryerson of Chicago gave him his start when he set aside a piece of land on which Crane could start a brass foundry. For that grew the Crane company.

Mr. Crane founded the Crane technical institute, a school designed to carry out his ideas, and supported it generously.

Concluding a detailed announcement of his investigation of the work accomplished by graduates of the University of Illinois, Richard T. Crane said today:

"The further I go into this education, the more firmly am I convinced that I was right when I took the ground, some years ago, that this university, as well as all others, ought to be burned down, and that the money spent on them should be expended where it would do some good."

PETTY THIEVES OPERATE AMONG LODGING HOUSES

Under the noses of the police a series of petty burglaries have been carried on in Colorado Springs during the last few days. Two men, one whose name is supposed to be Frank Smith, and another known only as Bill, have been peddling among the various lodging houses of the city, the cheaper ones mainly, and after getting the "layout" of the rooms have then returned to steal clothing and whatever other articles might be pawned.

It is thought that the stolen property has systematically been sent to Denver pawnbrokers. The police department says that it knows nothing about the matter and Chief Burns admitted that it might have been but said that he knew nothing of it.

One lodging house was entered last night and several articles of jewelry and clothing were stolen. One of the owners, fearing that the police department would be unable to cope with the situation, came to The Gazette office last night and suggested that the methods of operation pursued by Smith and "Bill" be given publicity.

RUSSIANS MAKE A DEMAND ON CHINA

Insist That Disrupted Empire Recognizes Independence of Mongolia

PEKIN, Jan. 8.—Two important developments today intensified the interest in the situation in China. These were a renewal of hostilities and the demand of the Russian government that China recognize the independence of outer Mongolia.

Revolutionists from Shan Si and Shen Si having captured the town of Shen Chow are advancing on Ho-Yan while reinforcements have been dispatched to the imperialists. The armistice has not been renewed and as there is a deadlock in the peace negotiations, early fighting may be expected.

In addition to requesting China to recognize the kutuktu of Urga as monarch of outer Mongolia, the Russian government has notified China that the independence of outer Mongolia must be recognized at once as concerns international affairs. The note adds Russia will assist the Mongolians in maintaining order and intends to build a railway from Kiakhta, Siberia, to Urga. Henceforth China will not be permitted to maintain military forces or send colonists to outer Mongolia, but may retain control of external relations. To this note China has made no reply.

Unable to Defend Herself.

To the other powers, however, the Chinese government today communicated the substance of the Russian demands. Undoubtedly a strong protest will be made by the Chinese government against the action of Russia, but China is unable to defend herself now or in the future with reference to Mongolia. Hereafter the desert of Gobi will mark the Chinese boundry on the northwest.

Pekin officials look for British action in Thibet at a later date as it is believed unlikely that Russia has taken the present step without previously consulting Great Britain and Japan.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The total absence of a reply from Minister Calhoun to the last inquiry from the state department as to the necessity of the presence of American troops in China and a complete silence for the last 48 hours has completely mystified the state department officials.

The department is determined to make no move until it hears from Mr. Calhoun and consequently another message of inquiry was directed to him today. Meanwhile the American troops at Fort McKinley, Manila, are being kept in readiness for immediate embarkation on the army transport as soon as Minister Calhoun gives the word.

To Introduce Gold Standard.

NANKING, China, Jan. 8.—The Republican assembly in session here voted today the introduction of a gold standard modeled on that of Japan. It also approved a bond issue of 100,000,000 taels (approximately $70,000,000) secured on the internal revenue for five years, with interest at 8 per cent per annum.

Indictments Charge Unnamed Trust Controls Bicycle Accessories

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 8.—A trust without a name has obtained control of 90 per cent of the business of manufacturing and selling coaster brakes for bicycles and motorcycles and a large percentage of other bicycle accessories in violation of the Sherman antitrust law, is charged in indictments handed down by a federal grand jury here today.

There are eight counts in the indictments in which 18 individuals and six corporations are charged with conspiracy to restrain trade and with attempting to monopolize the business.

The firms indicted are: the New Departure Manufacturing company, the Corbin Screw corporation, the Aurora Automatic Machinery company, the Eclipse Machine company, the Miami Cycle and Manufacturing company and the Buffalo Metal Goods company.

"This will be a test case to determine just how far a patentee can go in fixing the price of his product," said an attorney for the defense.

Dr. George R. Lunn, the Socialist clergyman, mayor of Schenectady, who interfered in the strike at the American Locomotive plant in Schenectady. Mayor Lunn attempted to have more than 600 strikers return to their work, but his good offices were rejected by the strikers, and, while attempting to urge them on to work, he was set upon, but managed to show up to decided advantage as a fighter.

May Force Steel Makers to Produce All Rails Under U. S. Supervision

ST. PAUL, Jan. 8.—With a view, it is said, to securing evidence for prospective legislation to compel steel makers to manufacture rails under government supervision, the interstate commerce commission is conducting an investigation of the wreck of the Great Northern coast train near Sharon, N. D., recently in which five persons were killed and a score or more injured.

The commission already has demanded from the railroad company the broken rail and this together with a photograph of it taken by an examiner of the commission will be shipped to Washington. Pieces of the steel already have been sent there.

Bills to Encourage Aviation in the Army

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Two bills, designed to encourage aviation in the United States army and to reward the officers and enlisted men who engage in the art of flying, were introduced in the house today, one by Representative Hardwick of Georgia, who would double the pay and allowances of officers detailed for aviation duty, and limits the number of officers to be detailed for such duty to 30.

Representative Sharpe of Ohio proposes to advance officers one grade in rank and double their pay and allowances for aviation service.

BRYAN SAYS HE WILL APPEAL TO PEOPLE

Loses Fight to Unseat Pennsylvania Committeeman Despite Threat

BITTERNESS MARKS SESSION

Lie Passed and Blows Seemed Imminent Baltimore Leads Race for Convention

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—William J. Bryan made his fight in the Democratic national committee today, and lost. He made Col. Joseph M. Guffey, member of the committee from Pennsylvania, the issue, and the committee, by a vote of 30 to 18, declined to unseat Colonel Guffey. Mr. Bryan once appealed from a decision of Chairman Mack and was defeated, 33 to 18.

The committee session was marked by extreme bitterness. Once the lie was passed, and blows seemed imminent. Mr. Bryan, from first to last, was the central figure in the proceedings, and the fight he precipitated at the very moment the committee was called to order lasted throughout the day. So much time was devoted to the contested seats that the important matters of choosing a convention city, fixing the time of the gathering and adopting a form of call to include the "permissive primary" went over until tomorrow.

Baltimore Is in Lead.

Baltimore stood out tonight well to the fore of all of her competitors. The representatives of that city proudly displayed a certified check for $100,000, as their bid for the convention. St. Louis seemed to hold second place, with Denver and Chicago under consideration, and New York far behind. The committees meet at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow, and the representatives of the various cities will begin presenting their claims at 1 o'clock. Many members of the committee favor June 20 as the date of the convention. This will be one week after the Republicans gather in Chicago.

The committee began its sitting with open doors, but as soon as Mr. Bryan began his fight, the doors were closed and remained so throughout the day. It is said there was no mincing of words by the speakers, but at the end of the day apologies were offered, and when adjournment was taken until tomorrow, all the members seemed, outwardly, on the best of terms.

Guffey Hurls the Lie at Palmer.

Colonel Guffey hurled the lie at Representative Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, who was contesting for the seat. Later, Colonel Guffey declared his temper momentarily had got the better of him and he was sorry.

Mr. Palmer said that, although he had been thrown out of the committee, it would not affect his loyalty to the party. Mr. Palmer previously had

ANDREW J. JAMES, THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN LOST IN MOUNTAINS LAST JUNE, RETURNS TO HIS HOME

Andrew J. James, who disappeared June 24, is back at his home, 707 North Weber street, explaining to friends the reason for his long absence and why no word was received of him during that time. Members of his family say that during no time has he been farther away from Colorado Springs than Denver.

Worry over financial affairs, sickness and a desire to secure rest are the motives for his disappearance as expressed by Mrs. James. Now he has fully recovered his health and expects to leave the latter part of this week for Illinois to straighten out some business matters.

The first news members of his family had of his being alive, was when he walked into the home last Wednesday evening and greeted them. Three weeks previous, a daughter says, she had been told that he was living, but she did not put any faith in the rumor, classing it with many others that had been circulated in the weeks and months following his disappearance.

"There is nothing much that can be told," Mrs. James said last night. "First of all, he was sick. You remember that he had two attacks of appendicitis, one only a few weeks before he disappeared. Money that was due him, especially from the east, was slow in coming in. He is naturally a sensitive man, and these worries discouraged him, although they were of small importance, and could have been handled with ease. But, he did not seem to take this into consideration. Instead, he concluded that a long rest would do him much good so he went to Denver. Of course, we were all worried, but that is all past now."

Mrs. James says that in going to Denver her husband did not seek seclusion, but obtained board and room at a well-known house and spent considerable time on the street. Often times, she said, he saw persons from Colorado Springs but made no effort to communicate with them.

The last seen of Mr. James, before his return a few nights ago, was when he started for the Short Line station to accompany a party to Cripple Creek. He was to investigate a mining claim in the Black mountain. Mr. James was late and the other men continued on their way to Cripple Creek, expecting Mr. James to follow the next day. But he did not make the trip nor did he return home. A few days later the news of his absence became general. Descriptions were sent out over the country and numerous searches were made in this section. A hat and coat were found in the cabin of his daughter's homestead claim in Rock Creek canon, but the clue stopped there. Reports were received that he had been seen in different sections of the country, but they could not be substantiated.

Mr. James could not be seen last night, but members of his family said he would be about today.

DON'T USE DRUGS FOR CONSTIPATION

Just Try Nature's Cure

We all know that constipation brings on countless other complaints if not taken in hand, appendicitis among them—also that any drug will lose its power after being taken for a time—but we should also know—that every drug forces nature instead of assisting her, and will, if continued, make us slaves to them.

There is now a method of Internal Bathing which will keep the intestines as clean and pure and free from waste as exacting nature can demand—which, taken occasionally, will prevent constipation, biliousness with its depression and the countless more serious diseases which are caused by the blood taking up the poisons from the intestines and carrying them through the system.

That method is the "J. B. L. Cascade which is being enthusiastically used by many thousands, is prescribed by the most enlightened physicians everywhere and is now being shown and explained by Max Kahn, Druggist, Postoffice building, this city.

Every one should at least investigate this nature-cure without delay. Ask for booklet, "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient"

GUNNISON COUNTY SENDS DELEGATION TO PUEBLO

Will Work for Rainbow Route in Interstate Highway Fight at Coming Convention

GUNNISON, Colo, Jan 8—Gunnison county will send to Pueblo to the Colorado Good Roads association's convention next Wednesday a strong organization to fight for the Rainbow route as a part of the transcontinental highway. The members will have data and maps to show their contention that the route from Salida over Monarch and Cochetopa passes to Gunnison and on to Montrose and Grand Junction is the shortest, most beautiful and most feasible across the state automobile route that could be selected.

The delegates have outlined a plan of action that includes only one idea—the Rainbow route via Gunnison. The Santa Fe trail to Pueblo and then to Canon City is popular with Gunnison people but the towns from Pueblo west to Salida must show the Gunnison and Montrose people that they are with them before any alignment can be made

DEMOCRATS BANQUET AT TABLES CROWDED WITH POSSIBLE CANDIDATES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—No party dissension, no party prejudice as to where the convention should be held; no partiality as to the nominee for president, marked the Jackson day banquet tonight, attended by nearly 1,000 leading Democrats from all sections of the country

Cheers for Bryan.

Mr Bryan's entrance was signaled by loud cheers

Mr Bryan and Speaker Clark exchanged cordial greetings, but it was noticeable that the Nebraskan was anxious to confer with Governor Wilson, whom he joined after a short talk with the speaker

Ex-Governor Folk was the last of the presidential possibilities to enter the banquet hall Though he passed Speaker Clark's chair, there was no sign of recognition from either Missourian

Governor Woodrow Wilson was cheered for several minutes when he arose to speak His reference to the currency question awakened the greatest interest

"The country," said Governor Wilson, "will not brook any plan—which concentrates control in the hands of the bankers because it knows that the bankers themselves are not isolated, and that the banks are tied in by a thousand enterprises by community holdings and by interests in many intricate ways

"The outside public must in some thorough and effective way, be put in a position to keep its credits and its financial opportunities free and undictated. The bankers of the country may have the highest and purest intentions, but no one class can comprehend the country, no one set of interests can safely be suffered to dominate it."

Tell Bryan He is a "Live One."

Mr Bryan who came last on the program spoke on "the passing plutocracy"

Nothing that he said awoke so much applause as his poetic perroration quoted from Byron. This is what Mr Bryan quoted

The dead have been awakened—shall I sleep?
The world's at war with tyrants—shall I crouch?
The harvest is ripe—and I pause to reap.

When Mr. Bryan had spoken these lines the banquet hall rang with a deafening din. Here and there above the noisy tumult could be heard mingled cries of "Yes, stay asleep" and "You are still a live one."

Mr. Bryan continued his quotation when the tumult had subsided and concluded with this.

I slumber not—the thorn is in my couch
Each day a trumpet soundeth in my ear.
Its echo in my heart.

Mr Bryan characterized the movement for popular election of senators as the national reform of the generation and urged elimination of the partisan issue that has been injected into the controversy

He indorsed the direct primary and advocated its application to national elections in every state in the Union.

"I congratulate the Democratic congress," said Mr Bryan, "on the record it is making It is earning the confidence of the nation In the matter of the tariff the country is rapidly approaching the Democratic position and while there are individual differences as to schedules, there are no differences of opinion among Democrats as to the substantial benefits to be secured by the public by the reductions that are being attempted"

In speaking of the approaching campaign as one giving promise of victory to the Democratic party Mr. Bryan warned his hearers

"That at this time when the whole country is alive with progressive sentiment it will be criminal folly for our party to falter in its onward march or to show cowardice in the face of the powerful enemy which is drawn up in battle before us."

with snow drifts 20 to 40 feet in depth, and extending for many miles

Numerous westbound trains are stalled Eastbound traffic practically has been abandoned, only one train on each road being dispatched from this city since yesterday morning.

Tonight a soft, warm rain is falling, and all indications of a continued cold snap have disappeared.

SPOKANE, Wash, Jan. 8.—The weather bureau thermometer today registered 11 below zero, the coldest since January, 1909.

More Storms Promised.

SEATTLE Wash Jan 8—Trains on all the transcontinental railroads are arriving late, but the storm in the Rocky mountains is blamed for this There has been very heavy snowfalls in the Cascades, but the railroads have been able to keep the tracks clear. Two more days of stormy weather are promised for western Washington.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 8.—One death as a direct result of the cold was reported to the police today, A negro was found frozen in a barn. The temperature at 9 o'clock was 14 degrees above zero, 28 degrees higher than the lowest temperature recorded yesterday, when a five-year record was broken.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Jan. 7.—A storm approaching the intensity of a blizzard is raging all along the line of the Great Northern from the mountains to Minot, N. D. and traffic conditions are seriously interfered with. A strong wind from the northwest is drifting the snow and filling up cuts and no prediction is made as to when trains are likely to get here. There is also trouble on the Burlington line, but so far it has not been so serious. The temperature has risen so that it is now 15 above here, but another cold wave is predicted.

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 8.—It has been the hardest seven days in the history of northwestern railroading, even as it had been a record-breaking period for continuous low temperatures. The operating departments of the various roads report conditions unprecedented. Loss of locomotive power has been fully 50 per cent. The inability to keep steam up to a high-working pressure and the freezing of lubricants on bearings combined to reduce efficiency. Nearly all the passenger trains are running behind schedule for 30 minutes to several hours. Orders prohibiting "making up time" have been issued by several roads.

LARAMIE, Wyo., Jan. 8.—With eight inches of snow in southern Wyoming drifting in a 50-mile wind, Union Pacific trains today are running 15 to 18 hours late. A temperature of 3 to 16 degrees below zero was recorded in southern Wyoming last night with 30 below at Rock River. Today the temperature is rising.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 8.—No trains from Chicago over the Rock Island road have reached here since last Friday, due to snow blockades east of here, and train officials do not promise any relief before Tuesday. There are now six limited trains somewhere between El Paso and Chicago in the snow.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan 8.—Weather conditions in the intermountain region are nearly normal, except for a high wind in Montana, which piles the new fallen snow and interferes with railway traffic. Helena reports westbound trains 24 hours late, and those eastbound six hours in arrears.

Lives 24 Hours in Snow Drift.

LOGAN, Utah, Jan 8.—Digging in a snowslide in Blacksmith canon, to recover the bodies of three men who were covered by it yesterday afternoon, a rescue party from Logan came upon John E. Miles, Jr., one of the supposed victims, alive and well. Swollen limbs were the only evidence of his 24-hour interment in the drift

The bodies of George Ellis and Fletcher Norris, Miles' companions, were recovered. Both apparently had been killed instantly. Miles owes his life to the little stream of water in the bottom of the canon, which carried away the snow he dug out in making a breathing space.

Reports From State Points.

TRINIDAD, Colo, Jan. 8—The temperature dropped to 11 degrees below zero between midnight and 8 o'clock this morning and at noon today the mercury went to 22 above the mark. A snow flurry visited Trinidad during the night, but abated early this morning. All Santa Fe traffic is tied up.

LEADVILLE, Jan. 8.—The worst blizzard of the season reached here shortly before midnight and continued until daylight. About 4 inches of snow fell and drifted badly on the railroad tracks. The mercury dropped to 10 degrees below zero.

GREELEY, Colo., Jan. 8.—The thermometer here touched 9 degrees below zero last night, which is within 7 degrees of the lowest record for the present cold snap. Snow fell for two hours.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Jan. 8.—Four inches of snow fell throughout the Grand valley last night. It was the first heavy snow of the season. The mercury dropped to 4 above zero.

MONTROSE, Colo Jan. 8—Four inches of snow fell here last night. The mercury ranged from 5 degrees below zero to 10 above today.

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo., Jan. 8.—This city was visited by a severe blizzard last night. The velocity of the wind was estimated at 70 miles an hour. About 15 inches of snow has fallen in the last three days

Constipation, if Neglected, Causes Serious Illness

Constipation, if neglected, leads to almost innumerable complications affecting the general health.

Many cases of typhoid fever, appendicitis and other severe diseases are traceable to prolonged clogging of the bowels. Regarding the effects of constipation, C. E. Ayers, 6 Sabin St., Montpelier, Vt., says: "I was afflicted with constipation and biliousness for years, and at times became so bad I would become unconscious. I have been found in that condition many times. Physicians did not seem to be able to do me any good. I would become sick and for days at a time could do no work. Not long ago I got a box of Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, and after using them found I had never tried anything that acted in such a mild and effective manner. I believe I have at last found the remedy that suits my case."

Thousands of people are sufferers from habitual constipation and while possibly realizing something of the danger of this condition, yet neglect too long to employ proper curative measures until serious illness often results. The advice of all physicians is, "keep your bowels clean," and it's good advice.

Successful Dentistry

For sixteen years we have conducted the largest dental practice in Colorado Springs. We have taken hold of everything in the way of new and improved methods and appliances that have appealed to us as a step in advance in the dental profession.

We have devised and perfected the Maxillary Method, the most satisfactory and scientific system of replacing missing teeth without the use of a plate, also a reinforced solid gold cusp system of crown and bridge work that adds years to the wear of a crown or bridge, and a suction chamber that makes our plates fit tight and comfortable.

We have been treating Pyorrhea successfully for a number of years, tightening loose teeth and curing spongy, bleeding gums, and we are the first and so far the only dentists to succeed in bleaching brown stains from children's teeth.

We attribute our success to a desire on our part to please every patient, no matter if their case be a simple or difficult one; we do not charge fancy prices but a fair price for honest, reliable work. Our policy has been a winner in the past and we feel it will in the future. Come to our office today for a free examination and estimate.

FREE WEDDING OF RUSSIANS

Los Angeles Judge Takes Novel Steps to Abolish "Bride Market" in Molokene Colony

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 8.—Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of the juvenile court, before whom were made the revelations last week concerning the "bride market" in the Molokene colony of Russians here, performed today the first marriage service between members of the peculiar sect that has been in accordance with American regulations. The bridegroom was Earl Shubin, son of one of the leaders in the colony, and Jennie Potapoff, who said she had not been through the bride market.

Judge Wilbur told the couple to go back to their people and tell them that, in order to prevent them from breaking the laws regarding marriage, in the future he was prepared to marry, free of charge, every Russian couple who applied. The judge found the couple wandering through the court house corridors, learned that they wanted to be married, promptly guided them to the license bureau, and afterward performed the wedding ceremony.

Asks Government to Name High Cost Investigator

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senator Crawford introduced a bill today to provide for the appointment by the United States of members of an international committee to investigate the general increase of the cost of living. The measure would provide for a general inquiry relative to wages, the effect of trusts and the influence of the increased volume of gold. The bill is in line with suggestions at the recent economic congress in this city.

USE SEARCHLIGHT AND FIRE HOSE TO SUBDUE A MANIAC

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Failing to subdue Anton Runick, a passenger, who had run amuck on the steamer with a revolver, Capt. Charles C. Gallow of the coaster City of Topeka resorted to his searchlight, turning the powerful beam into Runick's face and driving him into a state room. Runick fired through the door, and a stream from a fire hose was turned on him. He forced his way into an adjoining state room, holding up two ship's officers with his revolver, until a second hose was brought into play and the maniac overpowered.

The steamer arrived from Eureka today with Runick in irons. Runick boarded the steamer Saturday and deposited $136 with the purser. He is believed to be insane.

ARBITRATION TREATIES BROACHED IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The arbitration treaties were broached in the senate today, when Senator Cummins sought adoption of a resolution asking the president to ascertain whether Great Britain and France would consent to a provision requiring the parties to the treaties to submit to arbitration all justiciable controversies with other countries, regardless of whether they had treaties with the others or not. Senator Burton objected to immediate action. The resolution went over until tomorrow, when Mr. Cummins will address the senate.

WRECK IN NORTH DAKOTA

FARGO, N. D., Jan. 8.—The Great Northern's passenger train No. 2 was wrecked today, two miles east of here, a Pullman and observation car leaving the track.

E. H. Well of Williston, N. D., suffered an injury to his arm. Others suffered severe bruises.

SHOW ALLEGED COLLUSION BETWEEN PACKERS IN NOTE

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—A letter showing alleged collusion between Swift and Armour & Co., in bidding for the annual meat contract of the Old Soldiers home at Togus, Me., November 6, 1905, was introduced in evidence today by the government in the trial of the 10 Chicago packers, charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law.

The letter was received by Jerome H. Pratt, former assistant manager of Armour & Co.'s dressed meat department, and was signed with the initials "F. A. F.," which, Pratt said, indicated it was written by Francis A. Fowler, one of the defendants, in the case and head of the dressed beef department of Swift & Co.

The letter read as follows:

"J. H. P.: Please bid over beef 7¾, mution 8½, Togus home. You have had for a year. F. A. F. 11-6-05."

Jerome H. Pratt was on the stand throughout the day, and will resume his story for the government tomorrow morning.

LORIMER INVESTIGATORS WILL RECALL EDW. HINES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The senate Lorimer committee held a short conference with the lawyers and adjourned until tomorrow morning with the announcement that Edward Hines of Chicago, "who is accused of putting Lorimer over," would be recalled to the witness chair.

He will be asked about a meeting in the Chicago Union League club, immediately after Lorimer's election, at which it is charged plans were laid for collecting $100,000 to defray the alleged expense of electing Lorimer.

The committee put into the record letters which H. H. Kohlsaat wrote to Senators Crane, Cullom, Root and La Follette, which were instruments largely in bringing about a rehearing of the Lorimer case.

One letter to Senator Root tells of Mr. Kohlsaat having been asked to write the senator about "an incident in the Lorimer election."

Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the interior, is said to have been one of those who urged Mr. Kohlsaat to write of the story told by General Manager Funk of the International Harvester company.

A letter from Mr. Kohlsaat to Senator Cullom urges the senator to vote against Lorimer, and says: "When the good Lord calls you, don't leave a single record of winking at corruption—not personal, but in others."

Still another to Senator Crane, urging him to vote against Lorimer, says: "I earnestly ask you to help us kill the snake of corruption in Illinois."

Mr. Kohlsaat wrote to the committee that he could find no letters from Colonel Roosevelt on the subject.

PRIMARY CONTEST IS OPENED IN ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—In the opinion of political workers the formal beginning of the state primary contest came today with the initial circulation of petitions to place the name of Sen. Shelby M. Cullom on the primary ballot for senator.

In some quarters this was taken to mean that Governor Deneen would soon take the field for renomination.

The governor has long been credited with hesitating between the senatorial race and another trial for the office of chief of the state. Primary day is April 5.

SHERWOOD SAYS PENSION BILL ESTIMATE INCORRECT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Representative Sherwood of Ohio, whose so-called "dollar-a-day" pension increase bill recently passed the house and is pending in senate committee, today attacked Secretary of the Interior Fisher's estimate of $75,000,000 as the probable cost to the government if the bill became a law. In a speech in the house, Mr. Sherwood declared the secretary's estimate was too high by $25,000,000.

"I can prove it from their own records," he said.

NEW MEMBERS OF COMMITTEES CHOSEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—New members of committees chosen by the Democratic caucus Saturday were elected by the house as follows: Daniel Stevens, Nebraska, accounts and Indian affairs; Joe Taggart, Kansas, agriculture; Kenneth D. McKellar, Tennessee, military and railways and canals; William C. Redfield, New York, invalid pensions.

SENATE DELAYS PENSION ACTION FOR STATISTICS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Consideration of the McCumber pension bill, which will be offered in the senate as a substitute for the Sherwood bill, passed in the house, has been delayed awaiting statistics from the pension bureau. The senate pensions committee met today, but considered no private bills.

SO-CALLED QUEEN OF THE SMUGGLERS SAYS NOT GUILTY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Ethel Hall, so-called "queen" of a band of smugglers said to have been engaged in the importation of Chinese into this country from Mexico, and Antonio Feliz, formerly governor of Lower California, one of her alleged accomplices, pleaded not guilty today in the federal court.

MIXED RELATIONSHIP

BOULDER, Jan. 8.—Because of the issuance of a marriage license here to D. K. Dannels, a sawmill proprietor, people are puzzled to know how the relationship is to be determined through the approaching marriage of Dannels' daughter to his wife's son. Dannels will become the stepfather of his own daughter, while his stepson will become his son-in-law. The daughter will have a stepmother and mother-in-law all in one, and her stepbrother she will call husband.

TRAIN KNOCKS CAR INTO TAXI; ONE MAN KILLED

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., Jan. 8.—One man was killed, another fatally injured and two others seriously hurt in a peculiar wreck of a three-car train on the Long Island railroad here late last night.

The train was loaded with milk from New York and, as it approached Hempstead, it became unmanageable. It struck and wrecked an empty passenger car, then demolished a strong bumper and finally plowed off at an angle through a railroad yard fence, striking a taxicab and smashing it to smithereens and coming to a stop against the front of a building occupied by L. F. Schwencke, a real estate dealer. The gas tank of an engine exploded with a force which sent tons of milk in the cars up like a geyser which spread for more than 500 yards around.

BRYAN SAYS

asserted, heatedly, that if it were not for Colonel Guffey's gray hairs, the issue between them would have a more personal aspect.

Mr. Bryan, arraying himself against some of his friends of old, including National Chairman Mack and Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, fought desperately to the last, and had the committee in a turmoil.

Mr. Bryan inveighed bitterly against Colonel Guffey, and is said to have been unsparing in his arraignment of the Pennsylvania member. The feud between the two men is of old standing. Representative Palmer had accused Colonel Guffey of consorting with the Republican "machine" in Pennsylvania and of disloyalty to his party.

Bryan Does Not Apologize.

Mr. Bryan repeated all this and more. At the end it is said he had no apologies to offer and undoubtedly he will continue his fight against Colonel Guffey.

At one time during his impassioned appeal to the committee to rid itself of "Guffey and Guffeyism" Mr. Bryan went so far as to threaten "an appeal to the people" if the committee should decide against him. The threat had no effect. Mr. Bryan said that thrice he had been a candidate for the presidency and that 6,500,000 voters had stood back of him. They were all Democrats, he asserted and it was to the Democracy that he would make his appeal.

"If this committee does not do the right thing," he declared, "the people will do the right thing."

Immediately the report spread that Mr. Bryan had threatened the organization of a third party. This came on top of the conference between Mr. Bryan and Senator La Follette late yesterday and was given credence in some quarters. Mr. Bryan, however, laid emphasis upon the fact that it was the Democrats to whom he would carry his appeal and the third party talk died away.

First Fight Over Alabama.

Mr. Bryan's first fight came with the calling of Alabama on the roll of states. A vacancy from Alabama had been filled by the Democratic state committee. Mr. Bryan moved that the selection of the state committee be confirmed. National Committeeman Brown of Vermont, made the point of order that no such action was necessary under the rules laid down by the last convention, the national committee had no right to go back of the state committee's choice.

Chairman Mack sustained the point of order and Mr. Bryan appealed from the decision of the chair. He saw in this ruling the defeat of the protest against Colonel Guffey and asserted that the committee had a perfect right to pass upon the eligibility of its members. Mr. Bryan seemed to realize from the first that he was beaten, but he went into the fray undaunted. Mr. Mack was sustained 33 to 13.

Among the states voting to sustain the chairman were: California, Montana, New York, North Dakota, Idaho, Ohio, Texas, Washington, Wyoming, Alaska and Hawaii.

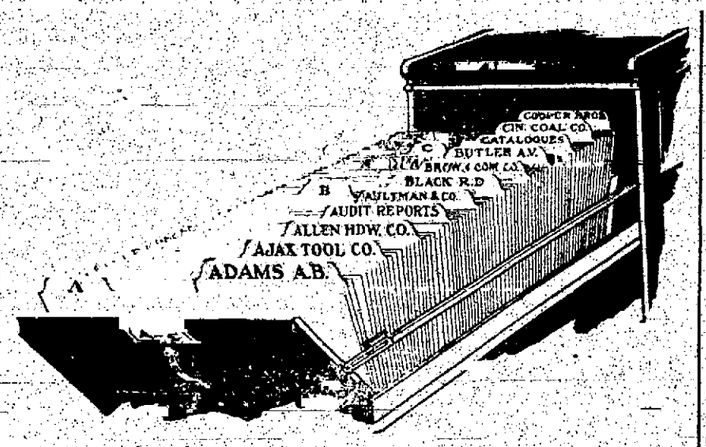

Among the states voting in the minority were: Nebraska, New Jersey, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, New Mexico and Colorado.

Guffey-Palmer Case Next.

Then the Guffey-Palmer case was taken up. It required nearly three hours. Senator Stone made one of the principal speeches for Colonel Guffey.

A resolutions committee was appointed with Clark Howell of Georgia as chairman, to frame a call for delegates and thus deal with the primary question. Other members of the committee are John T. McGraw of West Virginia, Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, Thomas H. Brown of Vermont and W. T. Brady of Oklahoma. It is said the committee will approve of primaries in the states with primary laws and will leave to the various state committees whether primaries shall be held in other jurisdictions. Such a resolution has been offered by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon. Each state would have to take care of its own primary expenses. There will be nothing mandatory in the primary resolution.

HARMONY BANQUET PROGRAM

DENVER, Jan. 8.—The special committee of the Republican party in Colorado composed of standpatters, Progressives and others, appointed to arrange for a "harmony" banquet in Denver, February 12, met tonight and agreed on the following program:

Chairman of the evening, Jesse F. McDonald, chairman of the State Central committee; invocation, W. F. Slocum, president of Colorado college; toastmaster, E. H. Devine, Pueblo; principal address, ex-United States Sen. Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana.

Deposits of turquoise have been worked in Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico and Texas. Turquoise is generally found in arid or desert regions, where mining is difficult.

DON'T USE DRUGS FOR CONSTIPATION

Just Try Nature's Cure

We all know that constipation brings on countless other complaints if not taken in hand, appendicitis among them—also that any drug will lose its power after being taken for a time—but we should also know that every drug forces nature instead of assisting her, and will, if continued, make us slaves to them.

There is now a method of Internal Bathing which will keep the intestines as clean and pure and free from waste as exacting nature can demand—which, taken occasionally, will prevent constipation, biliousness with its depression, and the countless more serious diseases which are caused by the blood taking up the poisons from the intestines and carrying them through the system.

That method is the "J. B. L. Cascade," which is being enthusiastically used by many thousands, is prescribed by the most enlightened physicians everywhere and is now being shown and explained by Max Kahn, druggist, Postoffice building, this city.

Every one should at least investigate this nature-cure without delay. Ask for booklet, "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient."

GUNNISON COUNTY SENDS DELEGATION TO PUEBLO

Will Work for Rainbow Route in Interstate Highway Fight at Coming Convention

GUNNISON, Colo., Jan. 8.—Gunnison county will send to Pueblo to the Colorado Good Roads association convention next Wednesday, a strong organization to fight for the Rainbow route as a part of the transcontinental highway. The members will have data and maps to show their contention that the route from Salida over Monarch and Cochetopa passes to Gunnison and on to Montrose and Grand Junction is the shortest, most beautiful and most feasible across the state automobile route that could be selected.

The delegates have outlined a plan of action that includes only one idea—the Rainbow route via Gunnison. The Santa Fe trail to Pueblo and then to Canon City is popular with Gunnison people but the towns from Pueblo west to Salida must show the Gunnison and Montrose people that they are with them before any alignment can be made.

15 HURT IN R. I. WRECK

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 8.—Fifteen persons were injured, none fatally, when Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific passenger train No. 72, east bound, was struck by a freight train on a hill 10 miles east of here tonight.

Something became wrong with the passenger engine and the train was stopped. A flagman ordered to the rear is said to have stopped to hunt for his coats. Before he could find it, the freight engine ploughed into the rear of the passenger, splitting the dining car in two. The conductor and mail clerk of the passenger were the most seriously injured.

EDITORS OF STATE ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEW YEAR

DENVER, Jan. 8.—The Colorado Editorial association this afternoon elected the following officers for the coming year:

President, John J. Barkhausen, Denver Democrat; first vice president, W. E. Cain, Cheyenne Wells Republican; second vice president, George C. McCormick, Fort Collins Express; secretary and treasurer, A. A. Swain, Pueblo Chieftain.

FORM CLUB TO EVADE ORDER REGARDING POOL PLAYING

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Jan. 8.—To get around the order recently laid down by Chief of Police Hutchinson that minors can not play pool or billiards in public halls, the proprietors have organized the Grand Junction Billiard and Pool club. Any member of this club, whether under age or not, can play pool under the same right that lumor clubs are allowed in dry territory.

DEMOCRATS BANQUET AT TABLES CROWDED WITH POSSIBLE CANDIDATES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—No party dissension; no party prejudice as to where the convention should be held; no partiality as to the nominee for president, marked the Jackson day banquet tonight, attended by nearly 1,000 leading Democrats from all sections of the country.

Senator Gorman of New York, the toastmaster, had at his right Speaker Champ Clark, one of the aspirants for the presidential nomination. To Mr. Clark's right was Alton B. Parker of New York, defeated candidate of the Democracy in 1904. Beside Mr. Parker sat Senator Kern of Indiana, former candidate for vice president, who appeared as the champion of Governor Thomas R. Marshall, the Hoosier aspirant for the presidency.

Cheers for Bryan.

Mr. Bryan's entrance was signaled by loud cheers.

Mr. Bryan and Speaker Clark exchanged cordial greetings, but it was noticeable that the Nebraskan was anxious to confer with Governor Wilson, with whom he joined after a short talk with the speaker.

Ex-Governor Folk was the last of the presidential possibilities to enter the banquet hall. Though he passed Speaker Clark's chair, there was no sign of recognition from either Missourian.

Governor Woodrow Wilson was cheered for several minutes when he arose to speak. His reference to the currency question awakened the greatest interest.

"The country," said Governor Wilson, "will not brook any plan which concentrates control in the hands of the bankers, because it knows that the bankers themselves are not isolated, and that the banks are tied in by a thousand enterprises by community holdings and by interests in many intricate ways.

"The outside public must in some thorough and effective way, be put in a position to keep its credits and its financial opportunities free and undictated. The bankers of the country may have the highest and purest intentions, but no one class can comprehend the country; no one set of interests can safely be suffered to dominate it."

Tell Bryan He Is a "Live One."

Mr. Bryan who came last on the program spoke on "the passing plutocracy."

Nothing that he said awoke so much applause as his poetic perroration quoted from Byron. This is what Mr. Bryan quoted:

The dead have been awakened shall I sleep?
The world's at war with tyrants—shall I crouch?
The harvest is ripe—and I pause to reap.

When Mr. Bryan had spoken these lines the banquet hall rang with a deafening din. Here and there above the noisy tumult could be heard mingled cries of "Yes, stay asleep" and "You are still a live one."

Mr. Bryan continued his quotation when the tumult had subsided and concluded with this:

I slumber not—the thorn is in my couch.
Each day a trumpet soundeth in my ear.
Its echo in my heart.

Mr. Bryan characterized the movement for popular election of senators as the national reform of the generation and urged elimination of the partisan issue that has been injected into the controversy.

He indorsed the direct primary and advocated its application to national elections in every state in the Union.

"I congratulate the Democratic congress," said Mr. Bryan, "on the record it is making. It is earning the confidence of the nation. In the matter of the tariff the country is rapidly approaching the Democratic position and while there are individual differences as to schedules, there are no differences of opinion among Democrats as to the substantial benefits to be secured by the public by the reductions that are being attempted."

In speaking of the approaching campaign as one giving promise of victory to the Democratic party Mr. Bryan warned his hearers:

"That at this time when the whole country is alive with progressive sentiment it will be criminal folly for our party to falter in its onward march or to show cowardice in the face of the powerful enemy which is drawn up in battle before us."

WATER SUPPLY

with snow drifts 20 to 30 feet in depth, and extending for many miles.

Numerous westbound trains are stalled. Eastbound traffic practically has been abandoned, only one train on each road being dispatched from this city since yesterday morning.

Tonight a soft, warm rain is falling, and all indications of a continued cold snap have disappeared.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 8.—The weather bureau thermometer today registered 11 below zero, the coldest since January, 1909.

More Storms Promised.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 8.—Trains on all the transcontinental railroads are arriving late, but the storm in the Rocky mountains is blamed for this. There has been very heavy snowfalls in the Cascades, but the railroads have been able to keep the tracks clear. Two more days of stormy weather are promised for western Washington.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 8.—One death as a direct result of the cold was reported to the police today. A negro was found frozen in a barn. The temperature at 9 o'clock was 14 degrees above zero, 28 degrees higher than the lowest temperature recorded yesterday when a five-year record was broken.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Jan. 8.—A storm approaching the intensity of a blizzard is raging all along the line of the Great Northern from the mountains to Minot, N. D. and traffic conditions are seriously interfered with. A strong wind from the northwest is drifting the snow and filling up cuts and no prediction is made as to when trains are likely to get here. There is also trouble on the Burlington line, but so far it has not been so serious. The temperature has risen so that it is now 15 above here, but another cold wave is predicted.

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 8.—It has been the hardest seven days in the history of northwestern railroading, even as it had been a record-breaking period for continuous low temperatures. The operating departments of the various roads report conditions unprecedented. Loss of locomotive power has been fully 50 per cent. The inability to keep steam up to a high-working pressure and the freezing of lubricants on bearings combined to reduce efficiency. Nearly all the passenger trains are running behind schedule for 30 minutes to several hours. Orders prohibiting "making up time" have been issued by several roads.

LARAMIE, Wyo., Jan. 8.—With eight inches of snow in southern Wyoming drifting in a 50-mile wind, Union Pacific trains today are running 15 to 18 hours late. A temperature of 3 to 16 degrees below zero was recorded in southern Wyoming last night with 30 below at Rock River. Today the temperature is rising.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 8.—No trains from Chicago over the Rock Island road have reached here since last Friday, due to snow blockades east of here, and train officials do not promise any relief before Tuesday. There are now six limited trains somewhere between El Paso and Chicago in the snow.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 8.—Weather conditions in the intermountain region are nearly normal, except for a high wind in Montana, which piles the new fallen snow and interferes with railway traffic. Helena reports westbound trains 24 hours late, and those eastbound six hours in arrears.

Lives 24 Hours in Snow Drift.

LOGAN, Utah, Jan. 8.—Digging in a snowslide in Blacksmith canon, to recover the bodies of three men who were covered by it yesterday afternoon, a rescue party from Logan came upon John E. Miles, Jr., one of the supposed victims, alive and well. Swollen limbs were the only evidence of his 24-hour interment in the drift.

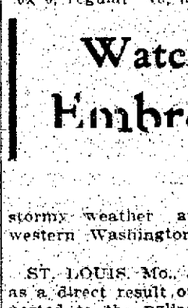

The bodies of George Ellis and Fletcher Norris, Miles' companions, were recovered. Both apparently had been killed instantly. Miles owes his life to the little stream of water in the bottom of the canon, which carried away the snow he dug out in making a breathing space.

Reports From State Points.

TRINIDAD, Colo., Jan. 8.—The temperature dropped to 11 degrees below zero between midnight and 6 o'clock this morning and at noon today the mercury went to 22 above the mark. A snow flurry visited Trinidad during the night, but abated early this morning. All Santa Fe traffic is tied up.

Constipation, if Neglected, Causes Serious Illness

Constipation, if neglected, leads to almost innumerable complications affecting the general health. Many cases of typhoid fever, appendicitis and other severe diseases are traceable to prolonged clogging of the bowels. Regarding the effects of constipation, C. E. Ayers, 6 Sabin St., Montpelier, Vt., says:

"I was afflicted with constipation and biliousness for years, and at times became so bad I would become unconscious. I have been found in that condition many times. Physicians did not seem to be able to do me any good. I would become weak and for days at a time could do no work. Not long ago I got a box of Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, and after using them found I had never tried anything that acted in such a mild and effective manner. I believe I have at last found the remedy that suits my case."

Thousands of people are sufferers from habitual constipation and while possibly realizing something of the danger of this condition, yet neglect too long to employ proper curative measures until serious illness often results. The advice of all physicians is, "keep your bowels clean," and it's good advice.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory, your money is returned.

Oregon Man Asks for Roosevelt on Ballot

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 8.—A petition to place the name of Theodore Roosevelt on the primary ballot for president was received today by the secretary of state. The petition was filed by Oliver M. Hickey of Portland. He informed the secretary that 1,000 signatures could be secured "at a moment's notice," and that more would be solicited as soon as the form of petition was approved by the secretary.

INVITES PARLIAMENTS TO MEET IN UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A resolution inviting the parliaments of the world to meet in Washington next September to discuss international arbitration, and to appropriate $650,000 therefor, was introduced in the house today by Representative Bartholdt of Missouri.

FREE WEDDING OF RUSSIANS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 8.—Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of the juvenile court, before whom were made the revelations last week concerning the "bride market" in the Molokene colony of Russians here, performed today the first marriage service between members of the peculiar sect that has been in accordance with American regulations. The bridegroom was Earl Shubin, son of one of the leaders in the colony, and Jennie Petapoff, who said she had not been through the bride market.

Judge Wilbur told the couple to go back to their people and tell them that, in order to prevent them from breaking the laws regarding marriage, in the future he was prepared to marry, free of charge, every Russian couple who applied. The judge found the couple wandering through the court house corridors, learned that they wanted to be married, promptly guided them to the license bureau, and afterward performed the wedding ceremony.

Asks Government to Name High Cost Investigator

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senator Crawford introduced a bill today to provide for the appointment by the United States of members of an international committee to investigate the general increase of the cost of living. The measure would provide for a general inquiry relative to wages, the effect of trusts and the influence of the increased volume of gold. The bill is in line with suggestions at the recent economic congress in this city.

USE SEARCHLIGHT AND FIRE HOSE TO SUBDUE A MANIAC

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Failing to subdue Anton Runick, a passenger, who had run amuck on the steamer with a revolver, Capt. Charles C. Gullow of the coaster City of Topeka resorted to his searchlight, turning the powerful beam into Runick's face and driving him into a state room. Runick fired through the door, and a stream from a fire hose was turned on him. He forced his way into an adjoining state room, holding up two ship's officers with his revolver, until a second hose was brought into play and the maniac overpowered.

The steamer arrived from Eureka today with Runick in irons. Runick boarded the steamer Saturday and deposited $136 with the purser. He is believed to be insane.

ARBITRATION TREATIES BROACHED IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The arbitration treaties were broached in the senate today, when Senator Cummins sought adoption of a resolution asking the president to ascertain whether Great Britain and France would consent to a provision requiring the parties to the treaties to submit to arbitration all justiciable controversies with other countries, regardless of whether they had treaties with the others or not. Senator Burton objected to immediate action. The resolution went over until tomorrow, when Mr. Cummins will address the senate.

WRECK IN NORTH DAKOTA

FARGO, N. D., Jan. 8.—The Great Northern's passenger train No. 2 was wrecked today, two miles east of here, a Pullman and observation car leaving the track.

E. H. Weil of Williston, N. D., suffered an injury to his arm. Others suffered severe bruises.

The cause of the wreck was a loose tire on a wheel of the sleeping car.

Successful Dentistry

For sixteen years we have conducted the largest dental practice in Colorado Springs. We have taken hold of everything in the way of new and improved methods and appliances that have appealed to us as a step in advance in the dental profession.

We have devised and perfected the Maxillary Method, the most satisfactory and scientific system of replacing missing teeth without the use of a plate, also a reinforced solid gold cusp system of crown and bridge work that adds years to the wear of a crown or bridge, and a suction chamber that makes our plates fit tight and comfortable.

We have been treating Pyorrhea successfully for a number of years, tightening loose teeth and curing spongy, bleeding gums, and we are the first and so far the only dentists to succeed in bleaching brown stains from children's teeth.

We attribute our success to a desire on our part to please every patient, no matter if their case be a simple or difficult one; we do not charge fancy prices but a fair price for honest, reliable work. Our policy has been a winner in the past and we feel it will in the future. Come to our office today for a free examination and estimate.

SHOW ALLEGED COLLUSION BETWEEN PACKERS IN NOTE

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—A letter showing alleged collusion between Swift and Armour & Co., in bidding for the annual meat contract of the Old Soldiers home at Togus, Me., November 8, 1905, was introduced in evidence today by the government in the trial of the 10 Chicago packers, charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law.

The letter was received by Jerome H. Pratt, former assistant manager of Armour & Co.'s dressed meat department, and was signed with the initials "F. A. F." Asked, Pratt said, indicated it was written by Francis A. Fowler, one of the defendants in the case and head of the dressed beef department of Swift & Co.

The letter read, as follows:

"J. H. P.: Please bid over beef 7¾, mutton 8½, Togus home. You have had for a year. F. A. F. 11-6-05."

Jerome H. Pratt was on the stand throughout the day, and will resume his story for the government tomorrow morning.

LORIMER INVESTIGATORS WILL RECALL EDW. HINES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The senate Lorimer committee held a short conference with the lawyers and adjourned until tomorrow morning, with the announcement that Edward Hines of Chicago, "who is accused of putting Lorimer over," would be recalled to the witness chair.

He will be asked about a meeting in the Chicago Union League club, immediately after Lorimer's election, at which it is charged plans were laid for collecting $100,000 to defray the alleged expense of electing Lorimer.

The committee put into the record letters which H. H. Kohlsaat wrote to Senators Crane, Cullom, Root and La Follette, which were instruments largely in bringing about a rehearing of the Lorimer case.

One letter to Senator Root tells of Mr. Kohlsaat having been asked to write the senator about "an incident in the Lorimer election."

Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the interior, is said to have been one of those who urged Mr. Kohlsaat to write of the story told by General Manager Funk of the International Harvester company.

A letter from Mr. Kohlsaat to Senator Cullom urges the senator to vote against Lorimer, and says: "When the good Lord calls you, don't leave a single record of winking at corruption—not personal, but in others."

Still another to Senator Crane, urging him to vote against Lorimer, says: "I earnestly ask you to help us kill the snake of corruption in Illinois."

Mr. Kohlsaat wrote to the committee that he could find no letters from Colonel Roosevelt on the subject.

PRIMARY CONTEST IS OPENED IN ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—In the opinion of political workers the formal beginning of the state primary contest came today with the initial circulation of petitions to place the name of Sen. Shelby M. Cullom on the primary ballot for senator.

In some quarters this was taken to mean that Governor Deneen would soon take the field for renomination.

The governor has long been credited with hesitating between the senatorial race and another trial for the office of chief of the state. Primary day is April 5.

SHERWOOD SAYS PENSION BILL ESTIMATE INCORRECT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Representative Sherwood of Ohio, whose so-called "dollar-a-day" pension increase bill recently passed the house and is pending in senate committee, today attacked Secretary of the Interior Fisher's estimate of $75,000,000 as the probable cost to the government if the bill became a law. In a speech in the house, Mr. Sherwood declared the secretary's estimate was too high by $25,000,000.

"I can prove it from their own records," he said.

NEW MEMBERS OF COMMITTEES CHOSEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—New members of committees chosen by the Democratic caucus Saturday were elected by the house as follows: Daniel Stevens, Nebraska, accounts and Indian affairs; Joe Taggart, Kansas, agriculture; Kenneth D. McKellar, Tennessee, military and railways and canals; William C. Redfield, New York, invalid pensions.

SENATE DELAYS PENSION ACTION FOR STATISTICS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Consideration of the McCumber pension bill, which will be offered in the senate as a substitute for the Sherwood bill, passed in the house, has been delayed awaiting statistics from the pension bureau. The senate pensions committee met today, but considered no private bills.

SO-CALLED QUEEN OF THE SMUGGLERS SAYS NOT GUILTY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Ethel Hall, so-called "queen" of a band of smugglers said to have been engaged in the importation of Chinese into this country from Mexico, and Antonio Feliz, formerly governor of Lower California, one of her alleged accomplices, pleaded not guilty today in the federal court.

BOULDER, Jan. 8.—Because of the issuance of a marriage license here to D. K. Pannels, a sawmill proprietor, people are puzzled to know how the relationship is to be determined through the approaching marriage of Dannels' daughter to his wife's son. Dannels will become the stepfather of his own daughter, while his stepson will become his son-in-law. The daughter will have a stepmother and mother-in-law all in one, and her stepbrother she will call husband.

TRAIN KNOCKS CAR INTO TAXI; ONE MAN KILLED

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., Jan. 8.—One man was killed, another fatally injured and two others seriously hurt in a fusillade, work of a three-car train on the Long Island railroad here late last night.

The train was loaded with milk from New York and, as it approached Hempstead, it became unmanageable. It struck and wrecked an empty passenger car, then demolished a strong bumper and finally plowed off at an angle through a railroad yard fence, striking a taxicab and smashing it to smithereens and coming to a stop against the front of a building occupied by L. F. Schweucke, a real estate dealer. The gas tank of an engine exploded with a force which sent tons of milk in the cars up like a geyser which spread for more than 500 yards around.

asserted heatedly, that if it were not for Colonel Guffey's gray hairs, the issue between them would have a more personal aspect.

Mr. Bryan, arraying himself against some of his friends of '08, including National Committeeman Mack and Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, fought desperately to the last and had the committee in a turmoil.

Mr. Bryan inveighed bitterly against Colonel Guffey, and is said to have been unsparing in his arraignment of the Pennsylvania member. The feud between the two men is of old standing. Representative Palmer had accused Colonel Guffey of consorting with the Republican "machine" in Pennsylvania and not [illegible] party.

Bryan Does Not Apologize.

Mr. Bryan repeated all this and more. At the end it is said he had no apologies to offer and undoubtedly he will continue his fight against Colonel Guffey.

At one time during his impassioned appeal to the committee to rid itself of "Guffey and Guffeyism" Mr. Bryan went so far as to threaten an appeal to the people if the committee should decide against him. The threat had no effect. Mr. Bryan said that thrice he had been a candidate for the presidency and that 6,500,000 voters had stood back of him. They were all Democrats, he asserted and it was to the Democracy that he would make his appeal.

"If this committee does not do the right thing," he declared, "the people will do the right thing."

Immediately the report spread that Mr. Bryan had threatened the organization of a third party. This came on top of the conference between Mr. Bryan and Senator La Follette late yesterday and was given credence in some quarters. Mr. Bryan, however, laid emphasis upon the fact that it was the Democrats to whom he would carry his appeal and the third party talk died away.

First Fight Over Alabama.

Mr. Bryan's first fight came with the calling of Alabama on the roll of states. A vacancy from Alabama had been filled by the Democratic state committee. Mr. Bryan moved that the selection of the state committee be confirmed. National Committeeman Brown of Vermont, made the point of order that no such action was necessary under the rules laid down by the last convention, the national committee had no right to go back of the state committee's choice.

Chairman Mack sustained the point of order and Mr. Bryan appealed from the decision of the chair. He saw in the ruling the defeat of the protest against Colonel Guffey and asserted that the committee had a perfect right to pass upon the eligibility of its members. Mr. Bryan seemed to realize from the first that he was beaten, but he went into the fray undaunted. Mr. Mack was sustained 33 to 15.

Among the states voting to sustain the chairman were: California, Montana, New York, North Dakota, Idaho, Ohio, Texas, Washington, Wyoming, Alaska and Hawaii.

Among the states voting in the minority were: Nebraska, New Jersey, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, New Mexico, and Colorado.

Guffey-Palmer Case Next.

Then the Guffey-Palmer case was taken up. It required nearly three hours. Senator Stone made one of the principal speeches for Colonel Guffey.

A resolutions committee was appointed with Clark Howell of Georgia as chairman, to frame a call for delegates and thus deal with the primary question. Other members of the committee are John T. McGraw of West Virginia, Homer S. Cummings of Connecticutt, Thomas H. Brown of Vermont and W. T. Brady of Oklahoma. It is said the committee will approve of primaries in the states with primary laws and will leave to the various state committees whether primaries shall be held in other jurisdictions. Such a resolution has been offered by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon. Each state would have to take care of its own primary expenses. There will be nothing mandatory in the primary resolution.

THE FARCE OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE

WHOEVER carefully examines the actual facts bearing on the administration of criminal law in this country must find it hard to avoid growing pessimistic. The atrocious record of the United States as shown by authoritative statistics as the most homicidal of all professedly civilized nations, is not likely to be changed soon. Too often the criminal law is not enforced at all, or, if it is, an attempt to reverse it is soon made by some maudlin sentimentalist or some lawyer who is interested mostly in his fee.

This observation is suggested by the turn just taken in a Colorado murder case which was supposed to be finally disposed of. Two or three months ago two young men, King and Fields, murdered a ranchman named Jackson. The only motive was robbery. After killing their victim they mutilated the body and robbed it. When arrested they confessed guilt, and at their trial, which followed with admirable celerity, they pleaded guilty, and were sentenced King, who actually committed the crime, to be hanged, and Fields, his accomplice, who planned it, to life imprisonment.

It is hardly probable that any person of average intelligence who read the account of this trial believed for a minute that either or both of the criminals was too severely punished. On the contrary, most people regarded it as one of the few notable instances in which justice was really done. Both men are now in the penitentiary, one of them awaiting sentence of death. Neither has ever made the slightest pretence of denying his guilt. Both have frankly confessed their crime, in court and on other occasions whenever anybody cared to listen to them.

ANYTHING TO DEFEAT JUSTICE.

But now comes a Denver attorney named Hicks with a brief filed in the State Supreme Court asking that the decision of Judge Sheafor, of the District Court, be reversed on the ground that the attorney for the defense did not adequately present his case because he "either was criminally negligent or suffering from a mania of irresponsibility which later resulted in his suicide." Now it happens that the attorney for the defense did commit suicide two or three weeks ago, but there is nothing whatever to justify the assumption that he was mentally unbalanced at the time of his demise or before, or that he failed in any way to discharge his full obligation to his clients in this particular case. The reasonable supposition is that if he were still living it would not have occurred to Mr. Hicks to ask the intervention of the Supreme Court on such grounds. But the attorney in question is dead, so it is a very easy matter to charge him with failure to represent his client adequately merely as a pretext for reopening the case.

Strange as it may seem, there is good reason for believing that laymen of average intelligence often display as good sense as lawyers and judges in estimating the guilt of innocence of persons accused of crime. In the case in question the trial was held in Colorado Springs, and we venture the assertion that it would be difficult to find twelve well-informed men in the county today who will say that the verdict of the jury and the sentence of the court were in any sense a miscarriage of justice. Yet here comes a lawyer with a plea before the Supreme Court which may upset the verdict and, possibly, free the perpetrators of an infamous crime! The Supreme Court will ponder the case for a few months, or years, and then announce its decision. If the history of the court was such as to justify absolute confidence in its ability to render full justice there would be no occasion for alarm over the present turn of the case. But unfortunately such is not the case.

This beloved country of ours with its "best government in the world" is still about two centuries behind other leading nations in its administration of criminal law. How long will it take for us to catch up with the procession?

"NOT A CANDIDATE"

THE once peerless William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, gets a top-of-column portion on the first page with an announcement that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination this year. But did anybody really suppose that he would be?

Mr. Bryan's career is peculiar to himself. No other politician in American history has done as well or as ill. In a single day and by a single speech he leaped from absolute obscurity to dizzy fame as the presidential candidate of one of the two great parties. In the subsequent election he was defeated by a larger majority than had ever before been polled against a candidate of either of those parties. But the fact of his defeat did not efface him; on the contrary, he apparently was stronger with his party than before the election, and he remained its absolute master.

Four years later he was again nominated without opposition and again defeated by an even larger majority. But still he remained the dictator of his party. His word was law. He was the Pooh-Bah of the unterrified Democracy. After two or three years of this sort of thing his enemies in the party councils got in the ascendency and nominated one of their own number Judge Parker to make the race against Roosevelt in 1904. Parker's crushing defeat made Bryan as big a man as he ever had been, and paved the way for his almost unanimous nomination, for the third time, in 1908. And in 1908, as in 1896 and 1900, he was again slaughtered.

The world has moved forward in the last fifteen years, and the Democratic party has been forced along with it. The Democrats have learned several things, the most extraordinary of which is that Mr. Bryan simply will not do. People who remember the frenzied enthusiasm for him which marked the campaigns of 1896 and 1900 will regard this change of Democratic opinion as nothing short of miraculous.

If we were of the thick-and-thin Republican persuasion we would view the passing of Bryan with extreme regret, for it means increased difficulties for the Republican party. In fact, however, we view it as a hopeful sign. In turning from Bryan to such a man as Wilson the Democratic party is displaying a degree of intelligence which promises better things for the country in the event of a Democratic victory this year than could possibly have followed a Democratic victory four, twelve or sixteen years ago.

THE GOLDEN WEDDING MUSE.

From the Galesburg (Ill.) Republican-Register.

As the years sped brightly on
No daughter and no son
Was given them to love and share.
So they took a dear maiden, who needed tender care;
And loved her as their own, and all these years have shown
That Lillian May has proven a blessing to their home.

Though half a century has flown,
They still together stand;
Through joy and pain their love has larger grown,
Thus proving to the world that happiness comes in fullest
Measure to those true hearts that treasure
The sacredness of love.

"The guests are here, the fires burn bright;
The house is full of life and light,
It is the Golden Wedding Day.
O, fortunate, O happy day!
The people sing, the people say
The ancient bridegroom and the bride
It is their Golden Wedding Day."

HONOR WON FROM FAILURE.

From the Washington Star.

Americans have reason to be proud of the course of W. Morgan Shuster, the retiring treasurer general of Persia, throughout the crisis in that country resulting from Russian aggression. He has been true to the trust imposed in him by the Persian government, striving first to establish the finances upon a sound basis and later to maintain the national integrity. He has been forced out of an office which was tendered to him in good faith, not because of any failure to measure up to its requirements, but owing to the international complications which placed Persia in the distressing predicament of having to choose between his retention and the avoidance of certain destruction by a greatly superior power. The fact that the government at Teheran resisted the demand for his dismissal until the last moment of grace granted by Russia is a tribute to the fidelity with which he performed his duty. Mr. Shuster's Washington friends are gratified at the fact that he leaves Teheran honorably, with a record of a failure that is entirely creditable to him.

PAYING PENSIONS FOR VOTES.

From the New York Commercial.

It is time to call a halt on the game of looting the treasury of the United States to gain votes. This game takes various forms, but the most costly and least excusable one is the swelling of the pension roll based on a war fought half a century ago. No one, and the Commercial least of all, will oppose the proper reward of those who lost wealth or sustained permanent physical disabilities in fighting the battles of the nation, but all or very nearly all the claims which are just must have been satisfied years ago under pension laws the most generous in their provision of any in the world.

To win votes deserters have been reinstated and bounty jumpers rewarded who would have been shot at daybreak after a drum-head court-martial if caught while the war was in progress. The scandal of pensioning the young widows of old soldiers was checked years ago, presumably because women had no votes. What female suffrage would have cost this country in widows' pensions is past all conception; but most of the additions made to the pension list in recent years are no more deserved than were the national contributions to the support of the young women who married veterans with one foot in the grave.

Victor Berger, the Socialist representative from Milwaukee, proposed an amendment to the "dollar-a-day" pension bill which passed, advocating the payment of pensions to the aged and the wounded soldiers of industry which would add a trifle of half a billion a year to the expenses of the country. His proposal is fairer, more honest and more logical than the pension bill which has been sent up to the senate. However, we must call a halt some time in this pension business, and right now is the acceptable time. If not, let everybody get a pension and then we will all be lifting ourselves by our bootstraps.

When the craze for swelling the pension list broke out about 25 years ago, those who advocated such additions to the country's burdens argued that in the course of human events nature would collect her debts faster and faster as the years rolled on and that the pension list would shrink rapidly as the veterans were called to their rewards. When we look on the dwindling ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic at its annual reunions we see how rapidly those who really bore the brunt of battle are passing away. But the pension appropriations are not dwindling. And now the annual cost will be greater than ever before if this bill passes, not because deserving soldiers are getting their reward, but because a presidential election is at hand. Associations of sons and descendants of veterans have been formed to graft on the public treasury and the end is not in sight.

Pensions have cost this country $3,755,731,152 in the last 50 years. Last year the contribution was $162,631,729, or $33,000,000 more than the combined pension payments of Great Britain, France, Germany and Austria-Hungary. Before Americans take too much credit to themselves for their generosity toward their soldier heroes, they should look into the treatment accorded to the soldiers of the little regular army of this country. No lavish rewards or pensions have been showered on them. Their votes are not of sufficient importance to politicians. The charge is only too well founded that congress pays for votes and not for services to the nation in authorizing additions to the pension list.

The history of the pension business is written in bricks and mortar. Among the massive public buildings in Washington stands a huge unsightly barracks, the pension office. When it was built and added to from time to time, it was always said that it was only a temporary structure, the need for which would pass away in a few years, and that money should not be wasted on it. But it promises to be as permanent an institution as the Capitol itself. It, however, is a standing witness of what was said when the pension system was established in what was thought to be its final form more than a generation ago.

Sunflower Philosophy

By Walt Mason

It is a nipping, eager air, that comes kerwhooping from the north. I hear my bluenosed neighbors swear as cityward they sally forth. "That wind," they say, "has been on ice for 50 years in Labrador; to spring it on us isn't nice—we don't see what they send it for." And thus my neighbors advertise to all the world that they are old; they'd sing and dance, if they were wise, and say how much they like the cold. There is a tonic in the breeze that icebergs in its whiskers wears; that comes straight down from arctic seas, and smells of seals and polar bears. It ought to make you skip and jump and if you greet that breeze with groans, it shows you're ready for the dump where people take their wornout bones. On torrid days the fat man sighs and for relief he vainly gropes, but on cold days he'd like to rise and whip a bunch of white man's hopes.

THE DAILY CHIT-CHAT

By Ruth Cameron

A would-be humorist, who evidently objects to the recent influx of books seeking to make us better acquainted with the outdoor world, assures us in the joke columns of a recent magazine, the public will probably be interested in a series about to be published on "How to know the birds from the flowers" and several similarly ridiculous subjects.

The last of his series is "How to know the grass." Now, perhaps I'm lacking in a sense of humor, but really, I don't see anything so terribly absurd and impossible in that last title. I've no doubt that a book could be written on just that subject with a good deal of interesting and novel matter in it.

And furthermore, such a book might have the effect of making us see something that we've only looked at before. A few months ago, I questioned if many people really SEE trees. I fancy that even fewer ever really SEE grass, and appreciate the infinite variety in the texture of the lovely carpet which nature weaves for her world.

Such a book as the would-be humorist proposed might open the eyes of many half-blind folks to see what they have always trampled on unseeingly, and thus give them a new interest in their walks abroad.

Except that these would probably be the very people who wouldn't read such a book.

Myself, I am no deep nature student, and I don't know anything technical about the subject, but have learned to look for and delight in a few varieties of grass.

For one kind, there's the tall wavy brown grass, almost as lovely in its graceful undulations and faint pastel colorings, as any wild flower.

And then, there's the funny little squatty, clumpy grasses, quite as different from the tall undulating variety as a hippopotamus from a giraffe.

I do not believe anyone who has lived by the sea can have missed the beauty of marsh grass. Sometimes I think the ripple of the windswept grass is as wonderful as the waves of the ocean itself.

The common, or garden, variety of grass, of which lawns are made, and which is all "grass" means to most people, is not the less beautiful because of its commonness. I do not know how most people feel about it, but for myself a perfectly kept lawn is full as pleasing as a fine flower bed. How lovely and restful a sight it is in its undulating smoothness, its evenness, its freshness after rain, its—there, I had almost said "emerald greenness," but why describe the greater by the lesser? I'm sure an emerald is not half so green as a finely-kept lawn, far better call the emerald "grass green."

Surely, even the man to whom a primrose by the river's brim a yellow primrose is and nothing more, could not have failed to look with appreciation on a fine lawn.

Still, I don't know. Perhaps he was an ancestor of the would-be humorist to whom a book on how to know the grass is for very height and acme of humorous absurdity.

The Great Conflict

A Half Century Ago Today

JANUARY 9, 1862

Affairs in Missouri continued highly turbulent. The St. Louis chamber of commerce broke up over an issue introduced by the war. The southern members of the body refused to admit to membership a number of candidates whose Federal sympathies were well known, and the northern members of the chamber withdrew to form another chamber of commerce; a purpose which they effected. The provost marshal general issued a general order directing every newspaper printed in the state, with the exception of the St. Louis papers only, to submit to him a copy of each issue for his inspection and censorship. Any paper failing to comply was threatened with suppression.

Col. H. Aminsel, commanding the Union forces at Clarksburg, Va., returned to that place with two companies of the Second Virginia cavalry and three companies of infantry, after an expedition in search of a party of Confederates that had recently seized some military stores. He brought with him the greater part of the stores, having come up with the Confederates near Sutton. He reported a heavy loss among the enemy.

The vessels containing the Third and Fourth brigades of General Burnside's expedition left Annapolis for the rendezvous at Fortress Monroe.

Senator Sumner of Massachusetts delivered a speech in the United States senate on the Trent affair.

AUSTRALIA'S WILD DOG

Menace to Stock Raising—High Price on His Scalp

From the Scotsman.

The dingo or wild dog of Australia is to that country what the wolf is to eastern Europe and the coyote to America. Hunting in packs or alone, he is a constant menace to Australia's chief industry, the breeding of sheep.

Many are the schemes evolved for the wild dog's destruction, but his capture or death is a comparatively rare occurence when set against his constant depredations. There are dog trappers who spend their whole lives in trying to catch dingos, men who have studied every aspect of their work and who spare no pains and avoid no hardships in a constant warfare with the wile and cunning of the sheep slayer.

Though the dingo is met with from time to time in almost every part of the Australian bush, his principal habitat is the rough range country in the center and north of New South Wales and the deep, dark scrubs of Queensland.

The dog trapper's life is of the loneliest kind. For weeks, perhaps months, he camps in the desolate ranges, setting his traps and watching with ready rifle in the moonlit nights for a chance shot at his enemy. In the bush there is a price on the head of every dingo. In some parts a dingo is worth £10 or even £15 to the man who delivers his scalp to the pastoral board or to the squatters.

This is made up by sums contributed among the sheepbreeders and allowed by the district councils, so generally recognized an enemy is the wild dog. With such handsome emoluments to encourage him, the professional dog trapper is not easily daunted, and his patience and perseverance are remarkable. Sometimes he may get as many as three or four dogs in a week, but as a rule if he gets three in three months he is doing very well.

As a rule the dingo confines his murderous attacks to sheep and weakling calves, but in the far out Queensland districts, where large packs travel together, number has been known to make them bold, and one hears of them attacking men in lone camps in the manner of wolves.

The dingo never barks, but his weird howl is a familiar sound in the bush nights and is blood curdling in the extreme and trying to the nerves of the new chum camped alone in the bush for the first time. Owing to his cunning and swiftness in changing quarters the dingo holds his own in central Australia and is likely to do so for many a day to come, even though the price upon his head—already a generous one—should be doubled or trebled.

FIRST AID TO INJURED HEARTS

By Laura Jean Libbey

A Husband's Fear

[Copyrighted, 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.]

The man who insists upon keeping the family pocketbook in his own possession after he becomes a husband should do a good deal of figuring ere he finally concludes to marry. It's all very well in his days of courtship to take care of money, not to buy her expensive presents, nor to indulge her in carriage rides. She doesn't expect more. But she does expect that he will buy her everything she needs after marriage.

The man who thinks more of a heap of gold pieces locked up in his trunk than he does of a sweet and congenial wife to sit opposite him at the table should have taken out a license long since, for he is already wedded to a habit of stinginess. I am thankful to say that such men are the exception, and not the rule.

A real miser never marries unless goaded to it by the culmination of peculiar circumstances, probably. For instance, it may be that the old couple, with whom he has boarded a score of years, is obliged to charge him a dollar a week owing to the higher cost of food. He wouldn't stand for that. He'd marry first, and have a place of his own.

Such a man is always looking for a bargain, even in a wife to keep house for him. One evening when he came in to dinner he was surprised to see a lady sitting opposite him. He recognized her name when they were introduced. He saw with dismay that her features were comely, that she was pretty, even though her hair was combed straight back. She wore black and—an excuse for a collar. When the bread was passed to her she was amazed at the thickness of the slices. "What! use butter upon it, at 40 cents a pound?" she exclaimed. "That is extravagance." As for tea or coffee, not for her! She always drank hot water, she added. She chose the smallest potato; a thin sliver of bacon sufficed her. She did not believe in sauces. Cake was a luxury only for millionaires, she declared. As the stingy bachelor listened he concluded that she was a rara avis among womenfolk. He saw her home, proposed marriage at her door. "Dear me!" exclaimed the widow, "you're the fourth man who wants to marry me! I am considering which one to take! You see, every man wants a prudent, practical wife." He urged an immediate marriage, to head off the others. They were wed within the hour. To his dismay he found that three previous husbands divorced her for extravagance. Misers are often caught in their own traps.

ANSWERS

"DESPERATELY IN LOVE."

"Dear Miss Libbey: Two young men are desperately in love with me. One is 19, though he appears much older, and is a tonsorial artist. The other is 23 and a student at Cornell university. I am 26 years old, but appear to be 18. Each of these young men has proposed. As I love both dearly, which one shall I marry?

"PERPLEXED."

I don't believe you had better marry either one of them. If you can't decide which one you wish to marry you are not deeply in love with either.

SHE WORKS IN A DENTIST'S OFFICE.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 17, working in a dentist's office, and am madly in love with a boy, blue-eyed and French, who is one year my senior. He drives a grocery wagon. Every day at noon I talk to him from my office window. What shall I do, as I cannot live without him?

"CURLY HEAD."

O yes you can. I think you had better not let the dentist find out how you are wasting his time. I am so sorry you talk to the boy out of the window. Don't do it. If he's interested in you he'll come to see you.

HER PARENTS OBJECT.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 20 and have known a girl one year my junior, for the last few years. We are in love with each other, but her parents object to me. For some little time we have been meeting at the homes of her friends. I am not in a position to ask her to marry me, yet should I lose her my whole life would be wrecked. What would you advise us to do?

"H. A. C."

There does not seem to be anything you can do but wait until you are in a position to marry the girl. Why do her parents object to you? Try to overcome their objections.

HE HAS TO BE MARRIED BEFORE HE IS 24.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 23 and deeply in love with three young women. While in the presence of each one I feel as though she is the only one for me. I should like to get married; in fact, I have to be married before I am 24 to inherit a fortune left me by my father. How can I find out which one really loves me, as they all know of my father's will? "J. W. P."

Better look about a while yet before you marry. You are not in love with any of these girls, or you could easily decide which one you wished to marry.

"LARGE, DARK, DREAMY EYES."

"Dear Miss Libbey: I was recently to a dance and noticed a young man with large, dark, dreamy eyes. Whenever he looked at me, I was sure I could read love in them. I don't know his name or where he is from. Can you give me some idea how to find him? I fear I shall die of a broken heart if I can't reach him. The girls here tease me and say he is bowlegged, but, with all his faults, I should love him still. Do you think there is harm in a girl's flirting? What should I do when a boy squeezes my hand?

"DILLA."

Dilla, I am sure you don't realize what an extremely silly girl you are! Can't tell much about the light that lies in men's eyes—it generally lies. I can't tell you how you can find him. This is not a detective bureau. You couldn't possibly love a man you didn't know. Indeed, there is harm in a girl flirting—it cheapens her so.

BRUTAL CONDUCT

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"But why are you determined to get a divorce from your husband?"

"Because he is an absolute brute."

"You amaze me. You used to say that he was as gentle as a child."

"Yes, that's what I used to say. But you ought to see him now! Listen: Since the baby began teething, nothing would quiet the little darling but being allowed to pull his papa's whiskers. And when he found that out, what do you think he did? He went down and had his beard shaved off, that's what! Do you think I'll live with a man that sort of a beast?"

LEGAL TANGLE DELAYS PAYMENT OF INSURANCE

The M. W. A. is anxious to pay a $2,000 life insurance policy held by the late Samuel Goad, but the district court will have to untangle another legal question presented yesterday. The fight has been a triangular affair. Mr. Goad first made out the policy to his wife, Mary Goad. He changed the policy March 10, 1910, and made his three children beneficiaries. In September, 1910, he again changed the policy and made his sister, Ella J. Hall, beneficiary. The M. W. A. did not know to whom to pay the money. Mrs. Goad first brought suit against the M. W. A. and Ella Hall, acting for her children. Attorneys for the M. W. A. yesterday asked that Mrs. Goad either be made a defendant or plaintiff in the suit, so that everything could be handled at one hearing. Mrs. Goad, acting for her children, claims that when the last change in the policy was made, Goad was of unsound mind.

WANTS HIS MONEY BACK FOR MARRIAGE LICENSE

Smily Bird, colored, wants the money he paid E. C. Shelden, county clerk, for a marriage license. Nette Payne, who was named on the certificate, has refused to carry out her part of a marriage agreement, he says. The marriage license was issued the Saturday before Christmas. Bird was advised to keep it and try to get the woman to marry him. If he failed, it was suggested that he try to get some other woman to marry him. Bird agreed to try.

BOY CONFESSES TO THEFT OF WATCH

Marlow Woods, 11 years old, is in the hands of Harry Alward, juvenile officer, awaiting a hearing on a charge of stealing a watch. He has confessed to the crime. The complaining witness is Mrs. I. E. Bratton, 637 Maple street. The boy found the watch on a table in the Bratton home, the authorities say, and took it and buried in a hole he dug in an outbuilding in the rear of his father's home. The watch has been recovered.

Mrs. A. R. Tabor, of Crider, Mo., had been troubled with sick headache for about five years, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She has taken two bottles of them and they have cured her. Committee Makes Report on Eastern Colorado Conditions

In its report to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday the special committee which has been investigating conditions in eastern Colorado stated the major trouble with that section of the country is poor economic and commercial conditions. The committee found very few cases of acute distress and none which were not being taken care of by the community. One of the most grevious drawbacks to the farmers of the section, says the report, is that banking facilities in the towns are extremely poor. Practically all of the banks have exhausted their loan funds and are, consequently, in no condition to carry many of the farmers through the winter or to make loans which might be necessary for the farmer to equip his farm.

The committee which has been carrying on the investigation is composed of E. W. Giddings, Leonard E. Curtis, J. A. Connell, P. B. Stewart, G. E. Barton, John Lennox and A. W. Henderson. This committee has been on its tour of inspection since Friday morning, having left Colorado Springs on a special Rock Island train in company with G. W. Martin, general agent of the Rock Island, F. M. Patt, superintendent, and A. R. Brasted, commercial agent. They returned to this city Sunday night.

Every town on the Rock Island between Colorado Springs and the Kansas line was visited and conferences held with various committees of business men and farmers which had been appointed previously. Friday night the committee attended a concert at Arriba, given by 100 persons from various towns in eastern Colorado. There an opportunity was had to meet the people and learn from that source the true condition of the farming communities.

The committee heartily recommends the development of the dairy industry for that section of the country and it is for that purpose that the banks are lending money. The report states conditions in eastern Colorado are favorable for profitable dairying.

Committee's Report.

The committee found no evidences of immediate want or destitution which is not being taken care of by the local communities, except in one place where arrangements have already been made to supplement the work of the local people and the county commissioners, and the committee is convinced, as the result of its investigations, that reports of existing widespread distress are without substantial foundation.

At the time of the visit of the first committee, three weeks ago, each branch of the Eastern Colorado Agricultural association agreed to appoint a special committee to keep closely in touch with conditions in each locality and to make investigations in regard to any possible case of cases of suffering. With one or two exceptions these committees reported that they were not aware of any actual want or destitution.

Cold Weather Hardships.

The main problem is a commercial and economic problem, and not one of charity or even philanthropy. Some relief work may be necessary soon because conditions have been much aggravated by the unusual snow and the unprecedented continuance of cold weather, which has drawn on the supply of feed more heavily than in ordinary years. If these weather conditions should continue much longer, there will be actual want and distress which will require temporary relief from some source, either local or outside.

The country has just passed through two extraordinary dry seasons in succession and as a result the local resources have been exhausted to such an extent that a great many farmers will need assistance in purchasing seed and feed for horses and cattle in the spring.

Fine Dairying Country.

All the members of the committee were strongly impressed with the fact that the entire semiarid region of eastern Colorado is not, as many have been led to assume, hopeless, for purposes of agriculture, but on the contrary is susceptible of great development and can with the proper methods of farming and with the necessary capital be developed to a high degree of production, primarily as a dairying country. Representative business men and farmers at every point assured the committee that even in 1911, the driest year in a long time, it has been demonstrated that drouth-resisting forage crops can be successfully grown, and that the risk of crop failure, when these crops are planted and properly farmed, is no greater than in any older established agricultural section. Evidence was presented to show that those who are in the dairy business are making a living and that the people are turning more and more to this industry as the salvation of the country.

Many Need Loans.

In order to get the best results many will need loans to secure cows and necessary equipment for dairying, but these loans will be small, probably not exceeding on the average $250 to the farmer.

One of the great needs of this entire section is greater banking facilities. The local banks have about exhausted their loaning capacity, and more capital is required. Local bankers informed us that such loans have been made on a safe basis and they showed that the percentage of losses is almost negligible. Practically all stated that they could make use of large amounts for just such safe loans to the farmers for buying dairy cows, seed and other needful purposes, and that if they could secure the additional capital needed, the whole country within a comparatively short time could be placed not only on a self-supporting but on a permanently prosperous basis. Unless adequate banking facilities for such needs are provided, a good many of the farmers will be compelled to battle with unfavorable conditions or move out.

The local bankers all assured us of their willingness to cooperate in any plan to secure outside capital and to give their services in every possible way. The committee was also led to believe that arrangements might be made in a good many of the towns to have leading citizens of undoubted responsibility cooperate to the extent of passing on all applications and guaranteeing all such loans made with their approval. The committee is working on a plan to secure outside capital to give permanent relief to the entire situation.

High Intelligence.

The members of the committee were particularly impressed throughout the trip with the high average intelligence, industry and thrift of all the farmers, business men and others whom it met, as well as with their faith in the ultimate success of the country, their independence and their desire to care for their own affairs. Their statement was to the effect that they need no help except a fair business chance and the opportunity to borrow at a fair rate of interest on adequate security the funds necessary to place the country on a self-supporting basis. The general culture of the people was most admirably shown at the concert given on Friday evening at Arriba, where people of seven towns in eastern Colorado were brought together and gave a highly creditable concert.

ASKS FOR NEW TRIAL FOR JACKSON'S SLAYER

In asking for a reversal from the judgment of Judge J. W. Sheafor of the district court, H. A. Hicks of Denver, attorney for George King, confessed boy murderer, suggests that Attorney C. L. Dickerson either was criminally negligent or suffering from a mania of irresponsibility, which, later, resulted in his suicide. The suggestion is made in a brief filed in the supreme court at Denver in King's behalf.

King was sentenced to death, along with a life sentence for John Fields, for killing Peter Jackson, an Elbert county farmer. A writ of supersedeas from the supreme court has temporarily stayed the hand of death for King.

The new attorney for King presents for argument the fact that King was in the death cell at the penitentiary 13 days after the murder.

That Attorney Dickerson, who represented King, did not offer any defense is given as another reason.

MAYOR ROLPH INAUGURATED

Will Hold Office as San Francisco's Executive During Preparation for World's Fair

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—James Rolph, Jr., the "world's fair mayor," whose task it will be to prepare this city for the Panama-Pacific International exposition in 1915, took office today relieving P. H. McCarthy, the labor leader.

Since McCarthy was elected two years ago the city charter has undergone radical change.

All municipal elections are non-partisan, the direct primary system allows only two candidates for any office at the actual elections and the term of the mayor has been increased to four years.

There were no ceremonies attending the change of administration. Rolph declared in his inaugural that it was to be a "business administration" and urged the board of supervisors to waste no time in preliminaries but to get to work.

Among the projects expected to be completed under the new administration are the purchase of the municipal water system, expansion of the municipal street railroad now under construction, establishment of a civic center and the construction of a city hall to replace the structure destroyed in the fire of 1906.

"FELLOW SERVANT" RULE IS GIVEN DEATH BLOW

DENVER, Jan. 8.—The old "fellow-servant" doctrine, handed down to American jurisprudence by the English and which the legislature has been trying for years to abolish, was knocked out by the Colorado court of appeals today.

Presiding Judge Tully Scott wrote the opinion. It was dissented from by Judges Walling and King, who, however, concur in some features of the decision. The "fellow-servant" rule was that all servants, employes in service under one man regardless of what they were doing, were fellow-servants, and that the master or superior was not liable for an injury to or death of any servant by the negligence of another servant.

The appeals court holds that in case of an injury or killing of a servant or employe by the neglect of another employe or servant, the master of both is responsible in damages.

ILLNESS OF ATTORNEY DELAYS RICHESON'S PLEA

BOSTON, Jan. 8.—The inability of William A. Morse, one of the attorneys for the Rev. C. V. T. Richeson, to appear in court today, resulted in a postponement until tomorrow of Richeson's expected plea of guilty to the information charging him with the murder of Avis Linnell.

Mr. Morse, who has been under a severe nervous strain owing to his activities in the Richeson case, found the events connected with Richeson's confession too much for his strength and since Saturday night has been ill. His condition improved greatly tonight.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock tomorrow, according to present plans, Richeson will make formal acknowledgment in court of his crime. Murder in the first degree is the offense charged and death in the electric chair is the legal penalty.

It is expected that after Richeson has been sentenced to death, an application will be made to Governor Foss and the executive council for a commutation to life imprisonment.

Governor Foss intimated today that should such a petition be presented, he will submit it to the council for a hearing.

TRUST YOUR PHYSICIAN

Such Is Advice Given by Denver Doctor in Address on Subject of Health and Hygiene

DENVER, Jan. 8.—Dr. Edward Jackson, speaking in the first of a series of Sunday night lectures in Unity church on health, said last night that the main requisite was perfect confidence and sympathy between a physician and a patient.

In making this point in his subject, "Choosing a Physician," Dr. Jackson said that a patient should have confidence in the doctor; that team work between the doctor, nurse and patient and others was also necessary.

Dr. Jackson made the frank statement that the doctor who wrote books or gave lectures on medical subjects was not always the most skillful physician at a bedside. He said he believed in laws that would result in a high standard of doctors so that in all emergencies the doctor summoned would be competent to deal with the case.

The lecture next Sunday night will be on "Modern Diagnosis," by Dr. J. N. Hall.

MILFORD, Mass., Jan. 8.—Clarence L. Racine, 17 years old, killed his mother, Mrs. Louise Racine, with a butcher knife, set fire to the house and then fatally stabbed himself, today. The boy is believed to have been temporarily insane. He died soon after he cut his throat.

HAPPY THO' MARRIED?

There are unhappy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter. The feelings of nervousness, the befogged mind, the ill-temper, the pale and wrinkled face, hollow and circled eyes, result most often from those disorders peculiar to women. For the women to be happy and good-looking she must naturally have good health. Dragging-down feelings, hysteria, hot-flashes or constantly returning pains and aches—are too great a drain upon a woman's vitality and strength. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores weak and sick women to sound health by regulating and correcting the local disorders which are generally responsible for the above distressing symptoms.

"I suffered greatly for a number of years and for the past three years was so bad that life was a misery to me," writes MRS. E. F. DICKOVER, of Utica, Ohio, Route 4. "The doctors told me I would have to go to a hospital before I would ever be better. A year ago this winter and spring I was worse than ever before. At each period I suffered like one in torment. I am the mother of six children. I was so bad for five months that I knew something must be done, so I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, telling him as nearly as I could how I suffered. He outlined a course of treatment which I followed to the letter. I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and a fifty-cent bottle of 'Smart-Weed,' and have never suffered much since. I wish I could tell every suffering woman the world over what a help Dr. Pierce's medicines are. There is no use ... doctoring with anything else or any one else."

The Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., answers hosts of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know. Sent free on receipt of 31 stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing only.

FAMILY OF FOUR POISONED

Death Supposed to Have Been Caused by Carbon Monoxide or Adulterated Milk

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—Mystery surrounds the deaths of four persons whose bodies, fully clothed, were found in a room of the boarding house of Mrs. Bridget Flanagan. The dead are:

MRS. FLANAGAN.

Her daughter, ANNIE, aged 10.

An adopted son, JOSEPH, aged 15 months.

KATHERINE MURRAY, a boarder.

Mrs. Flanagan was 36 years old. Her husband, it is said, left her 10 days ago.

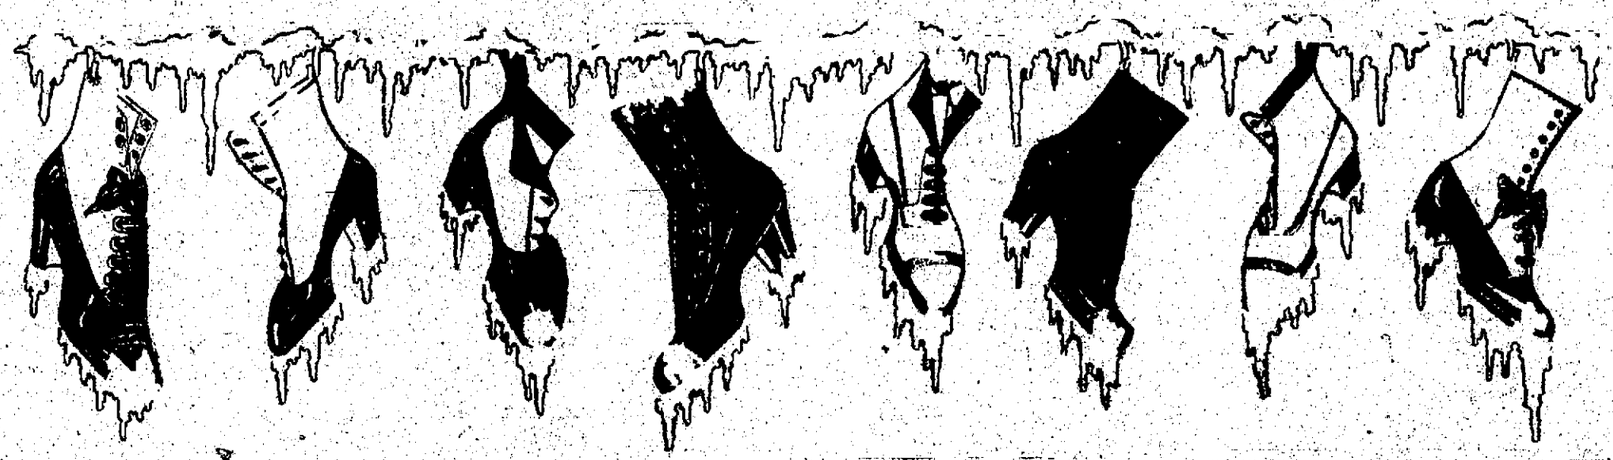

The authorities have been unable to determine whether the deaths were due to coal gas or to poisoned milk, of which all four partook.

Mrs. Hannah Curran, a sister of Mrs. Flanagan, was found unconscious in another room of the house. The hospital physicians say she is suffering from pneumonia.

DEBT CAUSES UNHAPPINESS IN HOME; DIVORCE FOLLOWS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 8.—Poverty is the chief cause of the present divorce evil, according to W. W. Wright, divorce proctor, who spoke before the Socialist Education society here today. "The fact that the average working man is seldom free from debt, causes more marital unhappiness than any other one influence," Mr. Wright said. "The peace and quiet necessary to the home disappear with the home's financial security. There are comparatively few divorces among the rich in this section."

"GET-RICH-QUICK WALLINGFORD" TONIGHT

George M. Cohan's terrific comedy success, "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," which captured New York during its two seasons' run on Broadway, and then duplicated its success during a solid year's engagement in Chicago, will be the attraction at the Opera house tonight, January 9, direct from the Broadway, Denver.

Critics and playgoers alike are agreed on the point that "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" is not only George M. Cohan's most brilliant effort, but the best play of American life that has been offered the public in many years. It deals with "easy money" finance, a theme that has become very familiar to the American people, and is handled in that delightfully breezy, Cohanesque style—with humor that is not sullied by a single questionable line, and humor that old and young alike enjoy most heartily. J. Rufus Wallingford, as depicted in the magazine stories by George Randolph Chester, is one of the most ingenious figures in modern fiction, and George M. Cohan has taken this character, rejuvenated him, surrounded him with many other types of an interesting nature, and built up a comedy that fairly sparkles with satire and absolute human nature. In addition, he has woven into the comedy theme a most interesting love story, which adds the proper touch of romance to the adventures of this plausible rogue in the world of high finance.

In the opening act of the play, Wallingford, who has been preceded by his prospecting pal, "Blackie" Daw, arrives in Battlesburg, a middle-west town of sluggish ambition and inert capital, and, by the exercise of his genial and persuasive personality, beguiles the gullible rustics into begging him to accept their money to invest in his phantom enterprises. The scheme of which he makes use in Battlesburg is the establishing of a huge factory for the production of covered carpet tacks to match the various shades of carpet, and he succeeds in organizing a "corporation," of which he is the controlling director, and in which is invested $125,000 of local capital. Talk of the enterprise, together with a franchise for a trolley line, which Wallingford persuades the city council to grant him, starts a real estate boom, and J. Rufus, who has secured options on every desirable bit of land in the vicinity, unloads his holdings at flood tide. As he prepares to "clean up" and get away with his ill-acquired wealth, Wallingford discovers that his private secretary, Fanny Jasper, suspects his intentions. To keep her quiet, J. Rufus makes love to her. But this feigned affection ripens into real love, and the regard of this good woman awakens the better side of his nature, which has long been dormant, and he begins to despise his methods and manner of living. He is determined to go away, however, and leave this good woman unsullied by his past life, when Wallingford discovers that the schemes with which he intended to "trim" his victims are real commercial successes. The covered carpet tack brings him a legitimate fortune, while a traction combine pays him his own price for the paper franchise, which had cost him nothing. He and his pal find themselves honest men by accident of circumstances, and like the experience so well that they remain an honor to the future prosperous town of Battlesburg.

There are a score and a half of cleverly drawn characters in the play, and the cast has been personally selected by Mr. Cohan.

Seats can be had at the theater box office.

AUGUSTA COTTLOW'S CHICAGO RECITAL

The following clippings from the Chicago papers, after Miss Cottlow's recital there three years ago, mention the principal numbers she is to play here tomorrow night and give a good idea of the great artist, to whose playing we are to have the privilege of listening:

"There are few pianists, old or young, whose art is productive of so large a measure of satisfaction, and there is possibly none among the women whose musical and technical gifts and attainments hold so great a promise for the future. * * * Miss Cottlow has learned how to compel the piano to yield its utmost fullness of tone without a moment yerging on harshness. * * * Miss Cottlow's success in the number (Bach-Busoni D-minor prelude and fugue) prepared one for the rare pleasures which were to follow. One knew that whatever she attempted would be accomplished with technical ease and certainty and with keen musical intelligence. * * * The latter (prelude in A-minor, Busoni) was likewise such a brilliant example of virtuosity that the audience at once demanded a repetition. * * * May Miss Cottlow soon be heard here again."—Glenn Dillard Gunn, Inter-Ocean.

"The unfailing accuracy with which Miss Cottlow delineated the mood of the entire Sonata ('Tragica,' MacDowell) calls for sincere commendation. It is not often that a young woman displays such a deep insight into the nature of things as they are. * * * She is a deep student, who studies to good purpose, and who has the power denied to many, of making her audience see things just as she sees them. Miss Cottlow's technic is impeccable. She plays with convincing authority and with perfect mastery of the instrument. * * * All honor to the Chicago girl who can so charm and hold an audience as Miss Cottlow did last night."—E. M. Latimer, Journal.

"That Miss Cottlow is a pianist, both vital and potent, was proved. * * * She is voted unanimously a veritable little empress of the piano. The first and most surprising thing about her work is the wonderful breadth of tone she commands. Then she has a most wonderfully clear and sparkling pianissimo, her scale passages being an incredible combination of all that is feathery and floating, with a brilliance that is like that of electric sparks. Her work is a succession of pictures many toned and multi-colored. She is the very epitome of youthful virility and ambition. She played two Debussy compositions so wonderfully well that they seemed positively human and entirely worth the effort—an effect which no one else has been able to make here. * * * The program ended with a positively scintillant performance of the Liszt Tarantelle, in which the final flight of octaves was played as but few artists of today could have done it, and the whole composition was made to glow again. It was an astonishing recital from every point of view—in program making, in power, in depth of thought, and above all, in exquisite musical feeling, the kind which makes the piano sing."—Florence French, Musical Leader.

MARVELOUS TENOR IN OLD TIME SONGS

As an evidence that the very highest class of artists endeavor to get on the Sullivan & Considine circuit may be cited the presence on the Majestic bill this week of Will Oakland, for years the tenor soloist with Lew Dockstader's Minstrels.

Few lyric tenors of today have the reputation of Oakland, who it is conceded possesses one of the rarest high tenor voices on the vaudeville stage. Having an exceptionally fine voice for such a purpose, Mr. Oakland has been able to corral about all the work he needed by making phonograph records at $100 a record, and to countless numbers his voice is familiar through this means.

Oakland has a most pleasing repertoire of songs, including "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young charms," "Mother of My Heart," "My Baby Rose," J. K. Emmett's famous lullaby and "Silver Threads Among the Gold." He sings them with sympathy and interpretation, and this together with his clear, rich mellow voice combine to produce a strong, striking effect.

Oakland is receiving the same high reception here as has been his in every city he has visited. Majestic patrons are the gainers that Oakland is on the S. & C. circuit and especially so, considering the uniformly high standard of all the acts on this week's bill. Performances at 2:45, 7:30 and 9:15. Admission only 10, 20 and 30 cents.

"COLLEEN BAWN" AT THE ODEON, THURSDAY ONLY

"Colleen Bawn" is the title of an Irish classic drama written by that celebrated playwright, Dion Boucicault and presented for the first time in America at Laura Keene's theater, New York, with the author in one of the prominent roles. Since that time it has been played many times, and in almost every city of this country, and still remains an example of the highest type of Irish play.

Written around well-known scenes in County Kerry, Ireland, and so truly portraying the Irish character and costumes of the period (1790) that the scenes and incidents of "Colleen Bawn" have been fairly taken out of the realm of fiction by the Irish people and stamped with authenticity to the extent that the tourist is today shown the "Colleen Bawn Rock," "Danny Mann's cottage," the ruins of the home of the colleen on Muckross Head, and other points immortalized by the dramatist.

The pictured story of "Colleen Bawn" is a most fitting climax to a high endeavor, not alone typical of the Kalem company, but of American picture making, as an enterprise alert, resourceful and progressive, and the Odeon management is to be commended for its endeavors to give the amusement-loving public of Colorado Springs the best there is in motion pictures. The usual price of admission will prevail.

MANTELL, IN "MACBETH"

Discriminating critics say the memory of the oldest theatergoer will not recall a more superb interpretation of "Macbeth" than that which will be given by Robert Mantell at the Opera house next Monday, January 15.

Mr. Mantell emphasizes the remorse of Macbeth, whose overleaping ambition drives him to one crime after another until he pays the inevitable, awful price. He is a storm-tossed man from the occasion of his first meeting with the witches, when he becomes the victim of his superstitious belief in them. His crimes haunt him in his waking and sleeping hours, and it is no tax upon his imagination to see the ghosts of Banquo at the feast.

Yet, Macbeth is not a man without a physical courage, and Mr. Mantell not only brings out the physical bravery of the Thane of Cawdor, but he portrays the moral cowardice of the man Macbeth.

Seats ready Friday.

NEW BILL AT CRYSTAL TODAY

Picture play patrons are expressing themselves as highly pleased at the announcement that the Crystal theater will offer a new bill every day, beginning today. Today's program is an "extra special" one prepared by Manager Cummings to inaugurate the innovation auspiciously.

It includes the great Vitagraph drama, featuring the ever-popular Miss Florence Turner, "One Touch of Nature," a story of how the one common tie that makes all hearts kin broke down the barriers of prejudice and race feeling. "The Plumber" is a comedy that is especially appropriate just now in this season of bursting water pipes.

Scene from Geo. M. Cohan's biggest success "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" at the Opera House tonight, January 9.

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are violent—they act on bowels as pepper acts in nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gasses; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

BOY WHO RAN AWAY TO BE COWBOY, SENT HOME

PLATTEVILLE, Colo., Jan. 8.—Russell Reed, the 17-year-old boy who was taken from the bumpers of a eastbound freight train almost dead from cold a few days ago, and who for days refused to reveal his identity, was sent to his home in Shelbino, Mo., money having been forwarded from his mother for the journey. The boy, it is believed, was mentally unbalanced from reading tales of adventure which gave him an uncontrollable desire to become a wild west cowboy. He said he ran away from home for this purpose, but his money gave out when he reached Denver.

FORMER ADMIRER ATTACKS WOMAN AND HER HUSBAND

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Mrs. May Redfern was attacked in the hallway of her home last night by Henry Peno, a rejected suitor, who almost severed the woman's right arm.

The two were acquainted before Mrs. Redfern's marriage a year ago. Peno lay in wait for the woman and when she came, accompanied by her husband, Peno sprang from behind the door and made the attack. Redfern, who tried to save his wife, was slashed across the forehead.

Peno was arrested after Mrs. Redfern's 13-year-old son, by a former marriage, knocked him down with a brick.

Redfern and his wife were taken to a hospital.

JEM DRISCOLL COMING OVER FOR BOUT WITH ABE ATTELL

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Jim Driscoll, one of the greatest featherweights ever bred in England, is seriously considering paying us another visit. Since Jeems left us over a year ago he was been up against it in his country. The worst blow struck him was when the officials stepped in and put the skids under his match with Owen Moran. That affair meant many quid to Jeems and he has not recovered from the shock.

Driscoll wants to come over here once more to take another whack at Abe Attell. The two masters met several years ago at the National A. C. and Jeems showed Abe a whole lot of that "step in, hit and getaway" stuff. We all know that Attell was one of the best little featherweights in this land, but when Driscoll finished we slipped the crown to the Englishman without any comments. It is possible that Driscoll and Moran may renew negotiations for a battle in this city and there are any number of clubs that would be glad to stage the affair.

Knockout Brown and Abe Attell have definitely decided to stage their battle at the National Sporting club on January 18. This bout will give Attell a chance to show what he really can do against a hard, aggressive, light weight. Attell has been trimming a lot of lightweights during the past year, but none of the class of Brown. The latter is confident that he will flatten Attell. Abie will start preparations this afternoon for the fray, as he realizes that he has to be right there when he faces the east side champ.

John L. Sullivan wishes to announce that the crop of heavyweights is "not like the old days." As "yours, always on the level" never saw Morris or Ritzer battle, he is certainly entitled to be classed as an expert, that is, if you look that way about it.

Jim Elvon is the "Adolphus on the spot," when it comes to grabbing easy coin. The daring fireman of Pueblo has signed to fight Al Kubiak ten rounds at Toronto on January 15. Kubiak has been beaten so regularly that Battling Keefe would be overjoyed to get a chance at the big fellow.

Mickey McNealis, manager of Philly McGovern, is out for b'ars. A report was sent out that McGovern refused to box Irish Paddy at the American A. A., and would be brought up on charges before the commission for defaulting. "McGovern was never matched to fight Irish Paddy," says McNeelis. "Such an affair would be a farce. Phil weighs 116 pounds, while Paddy tips the beam at 138. Any time I sign McGovern for a fight he's right there, and if I can find the man that spread that report, some undertaker will have a job."

Leaches Cross is matched to fight Bert Keyes at the Empire A. C. on January 12. To make no mistakes Leaches will immediately start training at the New Polo A. C. Phil, a brother of Leaches, is out on the road selling diamonds, but as soon as he disposes of his stock will come back and give any ambitious lightweight a chance to mix matters. Such a fighting family, those Crosses are. That is, barring Sam, the manager of the stable.

George Monroe has taken Frankie White, the crack lightweight in tow and is anxious to get him a battle with some of the boys in his class. Georgie says White is such a remarkable lad that modesty prohibits him from shouting the boy's praises.

Young Ketchel, of White Plains, who has challenged every man in the world, will have an opportunity to show his class tomorrow night at the Fairmount A. C. where he will tackle Young Britt, of Baltimore.

COLD HOLDS CHICAGO SPORTSMEN AT BAY

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—For the first Sunday in more than 20 years not a target flew from the traps of the Chicago Gun club at Kensington yesterday. Not a single marksman appeared at the club.

A special target match at Long Lake was postponed.

The extreme cold weather was responsible for the inactivity of the marksmen.

"They have faced all kinds of weather in the past but I guess this was too much for them," said Superintendent Merkle of the club last night.

ARE BASEBALL PLAYERS TREATED JUST RIGHT?

By HARRY NEILY.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 8.—About this time each winter when the rules of baseball are threatened with revision, when the demon athlete is sitting by the old wood stove, when the magnate is getting into print more than once a week and when the "appropriate gift" lists in the paid ads get 10 times the attention accorded the batting averages, somebody breaks out with a discussion as to the merits and demerits of the organized part of baseball. Front Tim Murnane, who played ball once, and has written about it ever since, down to the office boy, the discussion wages long and loud. At least once per January there is a squawk about the "slavery" features of baseball contracts and how the demon magnate oppresses the poor down-trodden athlete.

The way the athlete is abused is shameful. Being in a business the service of which is brief he gets two or three times as much as anybody else for similar service. This excessive salary compensates him for working where the magnate wills and for a few other little incon'veniences. For that matter we all work where somebody else wills, unless we have business of our own; then we labor where circumstance dictates. The poor, oppressed athlete gets from four to six weeks outing at a pleasant resort in the south each spring so that he may be prepared for engaging in his profession when the season starts. [illegible] would be the newspaper man who had a day in which to prepare himself for a new job. He's told to get down an [illegible] and be ready for things when the big stuff breaks. Same in every other commercial line. After the season commences the athlete is forced to play ball three hours per day for 77 days on the road and to play ball and come to a two-hour morning practice session when at home. He is forced into the necessity of always riding in a lower berth on one of Mr. Pullman's most palatial steel sleepers, unless he is a sale when he climbs the ladder and inhabits the upper shelves.

Furthermore, he is forced to dine generally in an American plan hotel that serves three square meals a day and possibly a late evening supper. His room does not have a bath, often a shower, and in the heated spell the nimble electric fan is present. Traveling alone the tourist would pay at least $3 per day for these accommodations. The ball clubs give them to the player gratis. When it comes time for the same the poor down-trodden athlete is compelled to change his clothes alone, valets not being provided. Then he is whisked to the scene of action in a taxicab. Another brings him back to the hotel. After eating one-third of his $5-per-day meals another cab takes him to the station, while his baggage is hauled in a chartered wagon for that purpose, all free of charge. Polite negroes tote his grips aboard the train, and he is again forced to undress himself.

For at least 80 days a season and four weeks in spring training he lives absolutely free of expense save tips. On the dining cars the club buys his meals, hires his taxicabs and provides a physical trainer and a doctor. "If I can stick five years more I'll have $20,000 in the bank," Joe Birmingham, Cleveland outfielder, said at New York recently, "and I guess that's a pretty good start for a young man." Joe never was one of those $5,000-a-year men, always lived well in winter and draws a salary probably about the average for the major leagues. Truly the bosses of the baseball profession have cast the lot of the player along hard lines when a man can retire at 30 or 34 years of age with $20,000 in the bank and a country-wide reputation that can be turned to account in many of the more prosaic walks of life.

GRIFFITH SENDS OUT CONTRACTS TO PLAYERS

By J. ED GRILLO.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The first move to get the players on the Washington club's list in line for next season was made when Manager Griffith began to send out contracts for the season of 1912.

Excepting Ray Morgan and Walter Johnson, the only two players who have signed, every man on the list will have the document before him before the week is out. So far as can be learned the players will not have any complaints as to the amounts offered. Several of the youngsters will receive increases and it is not believed that a single man on the list will be cut. Griffith does not expect the slightest trouble in signing his players and he believes that by next week he will have a majority of the signed contracts in his safe.

"The Washington club has been very considerate in offering salaries to its players and I don't expect to hear a single kick," said Griffith. "Ball players are well paid these days and they deserve to be because the game is prosperous. I believe in paying players for the goods they deliver. The fact that some youngster is signed at a low figure does not mean that he will have to draw the pay regardless of how well he may do. I make it a policy to reward my players. The fellows who deliver the goods will not be forgotten when the season is over regardless of what their contract may call for. That is the system which I believe always proves most successful."

The fact that Griffith was not elected to the board of directors of the club came as a surprise to many who believed that this was planned when Griffith came here. But Griffith does not want to be burdened with the duties of that office. He feels that he will have his hands full managing the team and that the present board will be well able to look after its affairs without his assistance. Just as soon as the players begin to report Griffith figures that he will be too busy to look after anything else, for he intends to give his time to the players and the welfare of the team from the very outset of the training season.

LONDON DECISION GOES AGAINST AMERICAN "PUG"

LONDON, Jan. 8.—"Blink" McCloskey, the American pugilist, and Arthur Harman of London, fought 20 rounds at the National Sporting club here tonight. The referee declared the contest a draw, but the decision was received badly, the crowd favoring Harman. The men displayed much bad blood.

S.S.S. THE REMEDY FOR SORES AND ULCERS

The combination of healthful vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed, makes it an especially desirable and effective remedy in the treatment of sores and ulcers of every kind. Since an impure condition of the blood is responsible for the trouble, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a successful cure; and it should be a medicine that not only cleanses the circulation, but one that at the same time restores the blood to its normal, rich, nutritive condition. S. S. S. is just such a remedy. It is made entirely of healing, cleansing vegetable properties, extracted from nature's roots, herbs and barks of the forest and fields. It has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity in the blood. When S. S. S. has purified the circulation, and strengthened and enriched it, sores and ulcers heal readily and surely, because they are no longer fed and kept open by a continual discharge into them of irritating disease-laden matter from the blood. S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, nourishing blood and makes a permanent and lasting cure. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice mailed free to all who write.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Because bright weather finally smiled on the Argentine harvest wheat values today became easy. Closing figures showed a decline of ½ to ¼@⅜c net. Latest trading left corn unchanged to ¼c higher, oats off ½ to ⅛@¼c and provisions down a shade to 5@7½c.

Wheat speculators seemed to divide their attention mainly between the radical change in the Argentine weather and the developments in a lively election that was in progress for a choice of officials for the board of trade. Before the opening, news was at hand that the return of fine weather reported by Buenos Ayres had brought about a sharp decline at Liverpool. A falling off in the United States visible supply, total brought only a feeble response, the decrease being less than had been looked for, accordingly there was a conspicuous absence of fresh buying as the market came to a close. During the session, May ranged from $1.00½ to $1.01¼@¼ with last sales $1.01, a loss of ¼@⅜c net.

A forecast of colder weather tonight made corn firm. Prices for the May option fluctuated between 64¼ and 64¾c with the close ⅛ up at 64⅝c. Cash offerings were more liberal. Carlots of No. 2 yellow were quoted at 69@70c for old.

Oats weakened under the lead of wheat. Trade was light throughout. Top and bottom levels reached by May were 48⅜@½o and 49⅛c with the close ⅛@¼c net lower at 49¼@⅜c.

Offerings on a fair scale proved sufficient to lower hog products. For the most part, however, changes for the day did not exceed a nickel.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—A bear raid of rather small proportions with Union Pacific as the especial object of attack depressed stocks for a time after trading began today. Transactions were on a fairly large scale and Union Pacific was forced down nearly 2 points. Reading, Lehigh Valley, United States Steel and other stocks lost a point or more. After an hour of activity and falling prices, the market became steady and trading diminished. During the remainder of the day the one was stronger. Prices hardened slowly and in some cases the recovery reached a point.

The street is now experiencing a mild reaction from the recent outburst of optimism. A disappointing feature is the apparent inclination of the railroads to reduce or hold back orders for rails and other materials.

Lack of demand for money for business uses caused a decline in rates and increasing competition for the limited supply of mercantile paper. In some instance prime paper was placed as low as 3½ per cent. Institutions which usually employ large amounts in this way were forced to turn to other investments, with the result of keener demand for high grade bonds.

The copper shares were strong for a time on an advance in the price of the metal. In the late dealings, the electric shares were prominent and both Westinghouse and General Electric gained more than 2 points. Central Leather issues continues to decline.

The bond market was irregular with transactions on a large scale in recent speculative issues.

Total sales, par value, $6,199,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

SPORT NEWS

JEM DRISCOLL COMING OVER FOR BOUT WITH ABE ATTELL

NEW YORK, Jan 8—Jim Driscoll, one of the greatest featherweights ever bred in England, is seriously considering paying us another visit. Since Jeems left us over a year ago he was been up against it in his country. The worst blow struck him was when the officials stepped in and put the skids under his match with Owen Moran. That affair meant many quid to Jeems and he has not recovered from the shock.

Driscoll wants to come over here once more to take another whack at Abe Attell. The two masters met several years ago at the National A. C. and Jeems showed Abe a whole lot of that "step in, hit and getaway" stuff. We all know that Attell was one of the best little featherweights in this land, but when Driscoll finished we slipped the crown to the Englishman without any comments. It is possible that Driscoll and Moran may renew negotiations for a battle in this city and there are any number of clubs that would be glad to stage the affair.

Knockout Brown and Abe Attell have definitely decided to stage their battle at the National Sporting club on January 18. This bout will give Attell a chance to show what he really can do against a hard aggressive lightweight. Attell has been trimming a lot of lightweights during the past year, but none of the class of Brown. The latter is confident that he will flatten Attell. Abie will start preparations this afternoon for the fray, as he realizes that he has to be right there when he faces the east side champ.

John L. Sullivan wishes to announce that the crop of heavyweights is "not like the old days." As "yours, always on the level" never saw Morris in Pelzer battle, he is certainly entitled to be classed as an expert, that is, if you feel that way about it.

Jim Flynn is the "Adolphus on the spot," when it comes to grabbing easy coin. The daring fireman of Pueblo has signed to fight Al Kubiak ten rounds at Toronto on January 15. Kubiak has been beaten so regularly that Battling Keefe would be overjoyed to get a chance at the big fellow.

Mickey McNeahs, manager of Philly McGovern, is out for biz. A report was sent out that McGovern refused to box Irish Paddy at the American A. A. and would be brought up on charges before the commission for defaulting. 'McGovern' was never matched to fight Irish Paddy," says McNeahs. 'Such an affair would be a farce. Phil weighs 116 pounds, while Paddy tips the beam at 138. Any time I sign McGovern for a fight he's right there and if I can find the man that spread that report some undertaker will have a job."

Leaches Cross is matched to fight Bert Keyes at the Empire A. C. on January 12. To make no mistakes Leaches will immediately start training at the New Polo A. C. Phil, a brother of Leaches, is out on the road selling diamonds, but as soon as he disposes of his stock will come back and give any ambitious lightweight a chance to mix matters. Such a fighting family those Crosses are. That is, barring Sam, the manager of the stable.

George Monroe has taken Frankie White the crack lightweight in tow and is anxious to get him a battle with some of the boys in his class. Georgie says White is such a remarkable lad that modesty prohibits him from singing the boy's praises.

Young Ketchel, of White Plains, who has challenged every man in the world, will have an opportunity to show his class tomorrow night at the Fairmount A. C. where he will tackle Young Britt, of Baltimore.

COLD HOLDS CHICAGO SPORTSMEN AT BAY

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—For the first Sunday in more than 20 years not a target flew from the traps of the Chicago Gun club at Kensington yesterday. Not a single marksman appeared at the club.

A special target match at Long Lake was postponed.

The extreme cold weather was responsible for the inactivity of the marksmen.

"They have faced all kinds of weather in the past but I guess this was too much for them" said Superintendent Merkle of the club last night.

ARE BASEBALL PLAYERS TREATED JUST RIGHT?

By HARRY NEILY.

ST. LOUIS, Jan 8.—About this time each winter when the rules of baseball are threatened with revision, when the demon athlete is sitting by the old wood stove, when the magnate is getting into print more than once a week and when the "appropriate gift" lists in the paid ads get 10 times the attention accorded the batting averages, somebody breaks out with a discussion as to the merits and demerits of the organized part of baseball. From Tim Murnane, who played ball once, and has written about it ever since, down to the office boy, the discussion wages long and loud. At least once per January there is a squawk about the "slavery" features of baseball contracts and how the demon magnate oppresses the poor down-trodden athlete.

The way the athlete is abused is shameful. Being in a business the service of which is brief, he gets two or three times as much as anybody else for similar service. This excessive salary compensates him for working where the magnate wills and for a few other little inconveniences. For that matter we all work where somebody else wills, unless we have business of our own; then we labor where circumstance dictates. The poor, oppressed athlete gets from four to six weeks' outing at a pleasant resort in the south each spring, so that he may be prepared for engaging in his profession with the [illegible]. It is, indeed, would be the newspaper man who had a day in which to prepare himself for a new job. He's told to get down an hour early and be ready for things when the big stuff breaks. Same in every other commercial line. After the season commences the athlete is forced to play ball three hours per day for 77 days on the road and to play ball and come to a two-hour morning practice session when at home. He is forced into the necessity of always riding in a lower berth on one of Mr. Pullman's most palatial steel sleepers, unless he is a sub when he climbs the ladder and inhabits the drooping shelves.

Furthermore, he is forced to dine meagerly at an American plan hotel that serves three square meals a day and possibly a late evening supper. His mean room has a tub bath, often a shower, and in the heated spell the numb electric fan is present. Traveling alone the tourist would pay at least $7 per day for these accommodations. The ball clubs give them to the player gratis. When it comes time for the game the poor down-trodden athlete is compelled to change his clothes alone, valets not being provided. Then he is whisked to the scene of action in a taxicab. Another brings him back to the hotel. After eating one-third of his $5-per-day meals another cab takes him to the station, while his baggage is hauled in a chartered wagon for that purpose, all free of charge. Polite negroes tote his grips aboard the train, and he is again forced to undress himself.

For at least 80 days a season and four weeks in spring training he lives absolutely free of expense save tips. On the dining cars the club buys his meals, hires his taxicabs and provides a physical trainer and a doctor. "If I can stick five years more I'll have $20,000 in the bank," Joe Birmingham, Cleveland outfielder, said at New York recently, "and I guess that's a pretty good start for a young man." Joe never was one of those $5,000-a-year men, always lived well in winter and drawn a salary probably about the average for the major leagues. Truly the bosses of the baseball profession have cast the lot of the player along hard lines when a man can retire at 30 or 34 years of age with $20,000 in the bank and a country-wide reputation that can be turned to account in many of the more prosaic walks of life.

AMATEUR CONKLIN WINS OVER CALVIN DEMAREST

CHICAGO, Jan. 8—Fred Conklin, the international amateur champion, defeated Calvin Demarest, the former 18.2 professional champion, 267 to 387, in the first block of their handicap billiard match here tonight. Conklin is playing 1 335 points, to 2,000 by Demarest. Demarest had runs of 116 and 99, averaging 24 5-16.

VICTORY FOR JOE MANDOT

MEMPHIS, Jan 8—Joe Mandot of New Orleans outfought "Bills" Allen of Ottawa, lightweight champion of Canada, at every stage of their eight-round bout before the Southern Athletic club tonight and was awarded the decision.

In the opening games of the newly organized Commercial Bowling league on the Overland alleys last night, the Out West five took two games from the Cuesta Rey team, while the Douglas-Chappell Furniture company team won three straights from the Western Creamery five.

The Pharmacists are booked against the Rexall team and the N. Y. Electric company five will bowl against the Bricklayers tonight. Here are last night's scores.

GRIFFITH SENDS OUT CONTRACTS TO PLAYERS

By J. ED GRILLO.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The first move to get the players on the Washington club's list in line for next season was made when Manager Griffith began to send out contracts for the season of 1912.

Excepting Ray Morgan and Walter Johnson, the only two players who have signed, every man on the list will have the document before him before the week is out. So far as can be learned the players will not have any complaints as to the amounts offered. Several of the youngsters will receive increases and it is not believed that a single man on the list will be cut. Griffith does not expect the slightest trouble in signing his players and he believes that by next week he will have a majority of the signed contracts in his safe.

"The Washington club has been very considerate in offering salaries to its players and I don't expect to hear a single kick," said Griffith. "Ball players are well paid these days and they deserve to be because the game is prosperous. I believe in paying players for the goods they deliver. The fact that some youngster is signed at a low figure does not mean that he will have to draw the pay regardless of how well he may do. I make it a policy to reward my players. The fellows who deliver the goods will not be forgotten when the season is over regardless of what their contract may call for. That is the system which I believe always proves most successful."

The fact that Griffith was not elected to the board of directors of the club came as a surprise to many who believed that this was planned when Griffith came here. But Griffith does not want to be burdened with the duties of that office. He feels that he will have his hands full managing the team and that the present board will be well able to look after its affairs without his assistance. Just as soon as the players begin to report Griffith figures that he will be too busy to look after anything else, for he intends to give his time to the players and the welfare of the team from the very outset of the training season.

S.S.S. THE REMEDY FOR SORES AND ULCERS

The combination of healthful vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed, makes it an especially desirable and effective remedy in the treatment of sores and ulcers of every kind. Since an impure condition of the blood is responsible for the trouble, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a successful cure; and it should be a medicine that not only cleanses the circulation, but one that at the same time restores the blood to its normal, rich, nutritive condition. S. S. S. is just such a remedy. It is made entirely of healing, cleansing vegetable properties, extracted from nature's roots, herbs and barks of the forest and fields. It has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity in the blood. When S. S. S. has purified the circulation, and strengthened and enriched it, sores and ulcers heal readily and surely, because they are no longer fed and kept open by a continual discharge into them of irritating disease-laden matter from the blood. S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, nourishing blood and makes a permanent and lasting cure. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice mailed free to all who write.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Because bright weather finally smiled on the Argentine harvest wheat values today became easy. Closing figures showed a decline of ⅛ to ¼@⅜c net. Latest trading left corn unchanged to ¼c higher, oats off ¼ to½@¾c and provisions down a shade to 5@7½c.

Wheat speculators seemed to divide their attention mainly between the radical change in the Argentine weather and the developments in a lively election that was in progress for a choice of officials for the board of trade. Before the opening, news was at hand that the return of fine weather reported by Buenos Ayres had brought about a sharp decline at Liverpool. A falling off in the United States visible supply total brought only a feeble response, the decrease being less than had been looked for, accordingly there was a conspicuous absence of fresh buying as the market came to a close. During the session, May ranged from $1.00½ to $1.01½@¾ with last sales $1.01, a loss of ¼@⅜c net.

A forecast of colder weather tonight made corn firm. Prices for the May option fluctuated between 64¼ and 64⅝c with the close ⅛ up at 64⅝c. Cash offerings were more liberal, Carlots of No. 2 yellow were quoted at 69@70c for old.

Oats weakened under the lead of wheat. Trade was light throughout. Top and bottom levels reached by May were 49⅜@½c and 49⅛c with the close ⅛@¼c net lower at 49¼@⅜c.

Offerings on a fair scale proved sufficient to lower hog products. For the most part, however, changes for the day did not exceed a nickel.

DECISION GIVEN REAGEN

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 8.—Jimmy Reagen of San Francisco was given the decision over Chalky Germain of St. Louis, tonight, after five rounds of a scheduled 10-round bout. Germain went to his corner in distress at the end of the fifth round, and the three boxing commissioners of Salt Lake appointed by Chief of Police Grant ordered the bout stopped.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—A bear raid of rather small proportions with Union Pacific as the especial object of attack depressed stocks for a time after trading began today. Transactions were on a fairly large scale and Union Pacific was forced down nearly 2 points. Reading, Lehigh Valley, United States Steel and other stocks lost a point or more. After an hour of activity and falling prices, the market became steady and trading diminished. During the remainder of the day the one was stronger. Prices hardened slowly and in some cases the recovery reached a point.

The street is now experiencing a mild reaction from the recent outburst of optimism. A disappointing feature is the apparent inclination of the railroads to reduce or hold back orders for rails and other materials.

Lack of demand for money for business uses caused a decline in rates and increasing competition for the limited supply of mercantile paper, in some instance prime paper was placed as low as 3½ per cent. Institutions which usually employ large amounts in this way were forced to turn to other investments, with the result of keener demand for high grade bonds.

The copper shares were strong for a time on an advance in the price of the metal. In the late dealings, the electric shares were prominent and both Westinghouse and General Electric gained more than 2 points. Central Leather issues continues to decline.

The bond market was irregular with transactions on a large scale in recent speculative issues.

Total sales, par value, $6,199,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Fresh Dried Fruit

At this season of the year, when most fruits are not in market, the housewife should avail herself of our new stock of dried fruits. Few people realize just how delicious they are. Stewed fruit is very healthful and will be found a valuable ally in connection with our bran bread.

Our prunes, apricots, peeled peaches, evaporated apples, prunells and cherries are all fresh stock and are extra large and fine.

Among the novelties are evaporated cranberries, which make excellent jelly, and prunells, a tart fruit similar to apricots.

Come in and see how superior our dried fruits are.
